

RAVINIA ITEMS.

W. L. McKenzie has begun work again after a pleasant visit with his family.

The Christmas box has been delivered to the Deaconesses' home of Chicago.

Several of our young people enjoyed the masquerade ball at Glencoe last week.

Rhoda McKenzie entertained his cousin, Dr. McKenzie, of Chicago, last Sunday.

The Epworth League will hold its business meeting and social at W. C. McKenzie's at 8 o'clock, Friday evening, Jan. 22.

Thieves have again made their appearance. They helped themselves to a number of Mr. Dings' pigeons last Saturday night.

The Epworth League reading circle will be started again next Friday evening under the chairmanship of Mr. Coe. It will meet at Mr. Kellogg's.

The Electric railroad project has created quite a stir in this little berg. A good thing, push it along, and make them pave our streets, build sidewalks and light the street corners.

Owing to the illness of the pastor the pulpit was filled by Rev. Chas. J. Dickey last Sunday. An excellent sermon was listened to by a large congregation. Pastor Heathcote is reported as improving.

Wednesday a large number of the auxiliary of the railroad conductors from Chicago visited the Home. A delightful lunch was enjoyed by all. Sociability, music and bright cheer was the index of the day's pleasure for the railroad boys.

The Van Duyne boys have had a fine large house built for their pigeons. They have about 60, including a couple pairs of fancy ones presented by Mr. Coe. Mr. Coe has been attending to the erecting of the house for them.

Hon. L. S. Coffin, Pres. of the Railroad Men's home, gave the boys a very bright and interesting address on Sunday afternoon at the home. The good people of Ravinia furnished the music. Mrs. Wightman of Evanston and Mrs. Sedgwick of Ravenswood were present.

Realty transfers here last week amounted to $10,000 cash. Other large sales have taken place here lately. Property here is valuable. The best use land can be put to is to build a nice house on it and reside inside of it, not somewhere else. There is lots of room in Ravinia: come and buy and stay.
