LOCAL ITEMS.

Insure your property with D. M.
Erskine, Jr., & Co.

The fire in Dr. Conger's house will give an impetus to the insurance business, for the time being at least.

Charles A. Kuist, our popular hardware merchant, is rejoicing over the advent of a son last Monday night. All are doing well under the skillful care of Dr. Bergen.

An old academy class-mate described some very active and useful men in the community as those who took a "pint of lightning" before breakfast. That's what Pastor Thor-en does; he works all his own parish most thoroughly and successfully, and then does enough outside work, preaching at Ft. Sheridan, etc., to make another man's full work.

One year ago last Monday, our loved friend, neighbor, and Christian brother, S. R. Bingham, fell asleep in his blessed Lord, and during the year, we who survive him have come to see what he was to our city as a citizen, as a social, intellectual, and moral force, and above all as a loyal and exemplary Christian man. "Being dead, yet speaketh" is as true of him as of any man we ever knew. The faults of some very excellent people are not always in evidence. Perhaps Mr. Bingham had them, he was human, but they were something of which we never thought. His excellencies were so conspicuous, so permeating, so commendable, that they filled the entire horizon of our moral vision, and our every thought of him was, "What a good man".

C. B. Soule, esq., of Chicago, was in the city Monday, looking over the ruins of his once beautiful home, preparatory to a visit from the ad-juster.

Chicago was started in 1830 with 70 inhabitants and now has 1,750,000.
Baltimore, Vermont was started in 1793, or 37 years before Chicago and had at the start 275 inhabitants.
It now has after 104 years' existence, a population of 66 persons all fold and has no store, hotel, blacksmith shop, post office, saloon, confectionery or church. But little "Balti" will get there all the same.

The many old friends and neighbors of Capt. George C. Ball, will be pleased to learn that he was called out for a song at the annual reunion of the Army of the Potomac, last Friday night, at the Sherman House, before 300 old soldiers and guests, and we are not surprised to learn that his rendering of "Shenandoah" brought the house down.

The Waukegan Register says the fare on the Bluff City Electric will be five cents anywhere in this city and to Ft. Sheridan, ten cents to Lake Forest, and fifteen cents to Waukegan; that will mean, of course, when you get down to business, 25cts.
round trip to Waukegan from here, instead of 76 cents as now on the Northwestern. What a glorious thing the Electric will be, and the Waukegan politicians won't be so anxious to step on Deerfield's corns then, when Fletcher, Wilmot, Brand, Easton, Greenslade, Pettis, Olesen, and Antes go up there after their paper collars!

Last Friday just as Judge Holmes was putting on his coat to take the 9:30 train for Chicago, the Inspector from the office of the State Auditor of Public Accounts, suddenly and without previous notice, put in his appearance and announced that he had been sent to make the annual inspection of the books of the Highland Park Building, Loan and Homestead Association, of which Judge Holmes is secretary, as required by the law. Sometimes it takes two or three days for an inspector to do a job of this kind, but that is only when he encounters irregularities.
It took just exactly five hours to satisfy the inspector that everything in connection with the Association was all right in every way and its affairs in a very flourishing condition. The inspector was so well pleased with the situation that on his departure from the Judge's office he remarked that if all Building Associations in this state were run as well as this, there would be no use for State Inspectors.
