Sweetland's Celery Headache powders cure in 20 minutes.

James McDonald advertises in the News and reports his trade better than last year. The News was not here last year, you see.

Mrs. James Bowden fell while crossing the street Monday and broke her arm. Dr. Bergen reduced the fracture and she is doing well.

A trainman dislocated his shoulder Monday morning taking his usual yawn while the train halted at Evans-ton, but came on to the Park where Dr. Ingalls reduced the dislocation and he went home.

Mr. Letchford, a carpenter on the new cottage of Miss E. M. Wycoff on StJohns avenue, fell from the roof Monday and broke the bones of his right foot. It was about 12 feet to the ground and it shook him up pretty thoroughly. Dr. Bergen was called in and he is now doing well.

Charles A. Whitacre has bought of S. M. Millard the spacious house down on the Sheridan road at the corner of Linden avenue. Mr. Whitacre is in the banking house of Lobdell, Farwell and Co., a graduate of the University of Michigan, class of '80, and a fine addition to the choice society of the city.

The steady increase, as well as the prospective demands of their trade, have compelled Evans Bros., the grocers, to put additional shelving in their store. They have taken that space in the north side of the store, beyond the big safe, where there used to be cracker boxes, etc., and filled in with new shelves. They advertise in the News.

We take supreme delight in saying that the Presbyterian Men's club expect Miss Jane Addams, of the Hull House, Chicago, to deliver the address in the Presbyterian church next Tuesday evening, March 9th. Though the lecture is under the auspices of the club, it is free to everyone and all are cordially invited. Miss Addams is one of the modern philanthropists who puts into practice the sociological principles taught by Christ when he stated what constitutes the first and second great features of the law of God, and which also were exemplified in the parable of the Prodigal Son. We count on her address as being one of the most interesting of the course. Don't fail to attend, for you will get new ideas enough to last you a long while about lots of things you never dreamed of.
