

OF LOCAL INTEREST.

Wanted—I want about 20 young heifers at once. Good prices paid. Apply to John Mooney, P. O. Box 102 Highland Park, Ill.

Mrs. Julia R. Leach reached the Park yesterday to spend a few days with her friends. She makes her headquarters at "Ravinook" this time.

We see that Fred Greenslade has cards out announcing his candidature for city treasurer. We guess Fred will get there, but more next week.

Carpenters are putting a new roof on the west side of Frank P. Hawkins' house. They are doing a better job than the original carpenters did also.

We have just learned that Highland Park may enjoy the opportunity of having a first-class college located in its midst. We shall investigate and report next week, if possible.

Mr. T. H. Spencer will speak in the First United Evangelical church Sunday evening, to fill the pulpit of Pastor Thoren, who was called to Peoria, where he will remain until Tuesday.

We understand F. M. Evans is in the field for town collector. He has had two years' experience and ought to know its duties. He has a good place for the office; people could find him.

Our citizens will be glad to know that Bishop Dubs of the United Evangelical church is looking for a permanent home here in the Park. There is a tendency to make this city the denominational headquarters, a plan which we most devoutly hope will succeed.

Pastor Johnson was too ill Sunday to be in his pulpit and so the Baptists were invited over, with the request that pastor Gould fill the pulpit. With great good and sense and Christian courtesy they did so and Mr. Gould preached an excellent sermon on the "Primacy of Religious Obligation" spiritually, socially and financially, from I Kings 17:13. We remember a somewhat similar incident during our pastorate in Adams, Mass., in 1873 when the Congregational pastor was suddenly stricken after the church was lighted for the evening service. He sent word to the sexton to turn down the lights in the church, but stand in the vestibule and tell the people as they came to "go once and hear Hibbard," and they came; and though the night was stormy, the house was full and a most excellent spirit prevailed.

A. W. Waldo, the Central market meat man, is perfecting plans for a new residence on his lot down on Park avenue.

Mayor De Wolf of Waukegan has finally consented to serve a second term. It kind o' seems to be in the air for capable, honest and efficient officials to be re-elected and serve a second term. The wind is blowing that way just now.

John Freberg, the liveryman, is putting his establishment in order for the season. Now that the mud is "hub deep," business is as rushing as sometimes, but it is only temporary. Big wagon loads of oats are going in every day.

Ingalls Bros. & Co. have done a lot of work; repairing, cleaning, etc., since putting in their gasoline engine. They also report sales as fair, with many inquiries for their excellent goods. They are first-class workmen and very reasonable in prices.

Last night (Thursday), the young people of the Baptist Church gathered at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. D. M. Erskine for a social evening. Although it was stormy and the evening unpleasant, about 35 came out. A very good program was rendered, consisting of songs, recitations, instrumental music and representations of familiar advertisements. H. M. Prior rendered two fine violin solos and Florence Evans a piano solo. Prof. W. A. Wilson, F. B. Green and H. S. Guilford sang solos. The Royal Arcanum quartette responded to an encore. Mrs. F. B. Green read and recited dialect pieces which everyone enjoyed. Miss Besie Cheverton elicited applause by two recitations. These were interspersed with the representations of ads, which those present tried to guess. Coffee and cake were served about 10 o'clock and about 11 they departed, feeling well repaid for coming out on such a stormy night.

M'KENNA-KLOSE.

Pastor L. A. Gould had the rare pleasure Thursday evening, March 11th, of uniting in marriage William McKenna of this city and Miss Lizzie Klose of Wheeling, at the residence of Alex Robertson on St. Johns avenue. After the pleasant ceremony the company, among which were many out of town friends, enjoyed a delightful supper. Mr. McKenna is one of the bright, industrious, expert artisans of the city. He has lived here about two years and won a deservedly high reputation as a competent and prompt workman. The bride comes from just over the border into Cook county, though she has many friends in the Park. Mr. and Mrs. McKenna will reside for the present at Mr. Robertson's. The News extends its best wishes.

SLIGHTLY MIXED.

A young politician of this city, who is said to be making heroic efforts, part of the time, to win the heart and hand of a very estimable young lady, and at the same time secure an important and lucrative local office, got slightly mixed in his correspondence, as the following epistle, mailed to the young lady, fully shows:

MY DEAR MISS B—

I hereby announce myself as a candidate for your hand, and I shall use all fair and honorable means to secure the nomination. I know that there are many candidates in the field, and I hesitated long before entering the race, but now that I am in it I am in it to stay. My views on love and matrimony have often been expressed in your hearing, and I need not repeat them here. You know I favor the gold standard in love—a one hundred cent dollar love, and a maintenance of that standard after marriage. If you decide to confer upon me the honor I seek, please fix a date for the caucus with your mother. I have no objection to her acting as temporary chairman, provided that is clearly understood that I am to be chairman of the permanent organization. Should the result of the caucus prove satisfactory, we can soon hold the primaries and select the date and place of the convention. I have never believed in long campaigns, so if you decide to honor me I will ask you to make the convention date as early as possible.

Devotedly yours,

JOHN CORKUS.

TOWN CLERK.

I hereby announce that I am a candidate for the office of Town Clerk in the town of East Deerfield, subject to the will of the people at the polls on April 6th.
