Supervisor Fletcher's elder brother, Alexander, from Sault Ste Marie, is spending a couple of weeks here. Of course, he is delighted with the Park as well as with his brother and his home.

William E. Cummings of Highland, canvassed that town, and then came down here the other evening, hunting for some workmen, and could not find any; every man had all the work he could do.

Yesterday's afternoon express brought out a superb specimen of the St. Bernard race of dogs for C. C. Yoe. He attracted as much, and a more appreciative attention than the Wild West show would have done.

We are glad to report that Mrs. A. Bock reported in another column as sick, is convalescent under the skilful treatment of Dr. Bergen. Her customers miss her at the store, though the business goes right along.

Some folks may not know that our whilom neighbor and friend, Thos. H. Hudson, who used to live in the little cottage opposite C. C. Yoe's Queen Anne barn, has moved away down on Lincoln avenue into one of those new cottages.

The members of Highland Park council Royal Arcanum have been invited, with their wives and sweethearts, to an entertainment to be given by the children of the members of the Northwestern council, at the Masonic Temple in Chicago at 8 p. m., on May 27th, that is, Thursday next week.

The service at the Presbyterian church next Sabbath morning, May 23, will be one of unusual interest. Four ruling elders are to be ordained and installed. The pastor will preach upon "The Principle of Obedience." Cyril Bruce Smith, a fine baritone singer, will render Gounod's "The King of Love my Shepherd Is."

Your attention is called to the new advertisements in this issue. Dale Sweetland advertises Thompson's cream and ice cream soda at 5 cents. Pitts & Genest announce the new firm name and solicit blacksmithing and horseshoeing at reasonable rates. T. E. Pierson claims your attention for a few moments to ask for your upholstering patronage. The Highland Park Electric Light Company brings to your notice the fact that they do first-class electrical construction and repairs at low prices. Read the advertisements. They are of interest and profit.

The New York Post makes a good point that every child should be thoroughly instructed as to what poison ivy—Rhees toxicodendron—is, so as to avoid it. The suggestion is timely here, where it abounds in every ravine through which the children stroll daily. Let so much practical botany be put into the public schools.
