

CITY BREVITIES.

It is reported that Col. W. J. Clampitt, late of Highwood, has bought one of the W. W. Boyington houses up on Port Clinton avenue.

The Patee tandem wheel being raffled off in E. H. Purdy's has only the small-priced tickets left, so you can have your choice for one or two "bits."

Frank Gelhar, who used to operate the Aldridge blacksmith shop, having located in Glencoe, comes up to get his coal. Frank was always a sort of a level-headed fellow.

The air ship, which so many Waukegan people have been seeing of late, as they worried home after the saloons closed, has been very appropriately named the "skycycle."

The Antioch News issued the delinquent tax list last week in an eight and one-half page edition, sending some 25 copies to this city. It is a credit to the News establishment.

The quarterly meeting of the First United Evangelical church will be held June 4-6, instead of next Sunday as announced. Presiding Elder Rev. E. K. Yeakel found it necessary to make the change.

There was a ball game between the soldiers and cadets Wednesday afternoon, and after seven innings the game stood 19 to 2 in favor of the soldiers, and by mutual consent they quit. The fact is, the cadets are too "vealy" while the soldiers are veterans, hardened in muscle and bone. When the cadets are mature and full grown they will make Sheridan boys, then look out for their laurels.

We hope before the street crossings are put in on this new piece of Central avenue, some one will examine the brick ones in Waukegan. They are made of brick set up on edge, same as brick pavement, only the crossing—across in the macadamized streets, we mean—is fully six feet wide and crowning in the centre, so that the slush and mud wash off at once and the streets are easily crossed at any time. They are vastly superior now to our flag stone crossings. Being so broad and laid so crowning they are always above the water, and give no jolt to carriages driving over them. As a matter of fact, nine-tenths of our street crossings are too narrow and too low to prevent carriages jolting. We have seen no such crossings as those in Waukegan this side of Minneapolis. Of course in the brick-paved streets the crossings and pavings are all alike, brick.

PIENKOWSKY - BUCKLEY.

The many friends of Miss Minnie Pienkowsky will be interested in knowing that she was married Wednesday, May 19th, to Mr. Alexander B. Buckley, of St. Louis. Mr. Buckley is a Christian gentleman, of fine personal appearance, and wealthy.

Owing to the recent severe illness of the groom, who had gone to Phoenix, Arizona, to look after property interests, he was not able to travel at the time appointed, so the bride bravely went out there alone, arriving on the day originally set for the wedding, and they were married in the house built and furnished by Mr. Buckley this last winter, for their winter residence. May happiness and prosperity attend them.

The Springfield Republican says there is a "glut" in the ministerial market. How would it do to improve the quality, Mr. Republican.
