CITY BREVITIES.

Insure your property with D. M. Erskine, Jr. and Co.
 It is very much better to have this hot weather now than next winter, when its effect on the sleighing would be disastrous.

O. Lawrence Olesen was fined $15 and costs in Justice Dooley's court Thursday afternoon for tampering with the city hydrants.

The Northwestern folks hit a bad day for their excursion Wednesday, but they are going to have another Saturday, July 10th, to Waukesha, leaving the Park at 7:50 a. m., reaching there at 10:30, where we stay till 6:30 and get home in the fading twilight. Be sure and go, and while there drink medical water enough to last you till the next excursion. All for $1.00 each.

Mrs. Crawford's recital from Chopin Monday evening was the finest thing of the kind the Park has had during our residence here. It requires some ability and musical genius to interpret and express Chopin, and first class musical critics, which we do not claim to be, declare that Mrs. Crawford is very superior in both respects; we know enough to know that we have no one at all her equal. The audience was not large, although many received her courteous invitation. It was a very enjoyable occasion.

CORRESPONDENCE.

EDITOR OF THE NEWS:

Your inquiry in last week's issue of the NEWS, Where is the office of the city treasurer? Will say the office is at Dale Sweetland's drug store and if I am not there, Mr. Sweetland will cash all warrants presented. I am not aware that there are any cash warrants outstanding, and those that held warrants as a result of last meeting, were all paid within 48 hours after the issue of the warrants. Thanking you for calling my attention to not notifying you where the office of the city treasurer is. It is my intention to pay all warrants promptly and will be pleased to cash one for you at any time.

FRED GREENSLADE,
 City Treas.
