

ABOUT TOWN.

There will soon be offered for sale ten city bonds of $1000 each to our citizens who have a little spare cash which they wish to salt down in first-class, gilt-edged security.

Mr. T. E. Pierson, the man who makes chairs, sofas, beds and upholsters all kinds of furniture better than new, has moved his family here into Conductor Dorothy's house on St. Johns avenue.

George Elvey having ceased to arrest fellows on the sidewalks with wheels, has taken to raising honey to help sweeten the declining years of his own as well as other lives. His success is highly encouraging, as he has already produced some and he confidently hopes for more.

You need not think F. C. Brown runs a bicycle exchange, because you happen to see half a dozen wheels about his porch. It takes just seven machines to supply the family needs, and they make good and judicious use of them all. Wheels cost less and give much better satisfaction than do doctors and drugs.

City Treasurer Greenslade has devised a model sheet for exhibiting the real condition of the city's finances every month. It is all on one page and all is seen at a glance. Mr. Greenslade is an expert book-keeper, and he can't be hoodwinked or made to go beyond his duty, according to law. His long service in the accountant's department of the Northwestern has taught him not a few valuable points for his present position.

I beg to announce that on the 12th inst I opened a
