CORRESPONDENCE.

To the Public:

I would like to correct a statement made in last week's News by Alexander Falk regarding sprinkling. He stated that "it was there agreed and decided that Central avenue was to be the dividing line of the two districts." This is true as far as it goes, but he neglected to say that there was a provision that there was to be an exchange of contracts to balance matters. Mr. Falk has not delivered any contracts to me. I am ready to divide the city on this basis at any time. I will carry out all contracts and sprinkle regularly wherever there is a contract.

Respectfully,

WILLIAM TILLMAN.

Fred Schumacher in addition to his pills and soda has a little 16 page volume on making all forms of bread, rolls, biscuit, etc. The receipts are finely sandwiched in between marvelous tales of the wonderful curative powers of Hoods Sarsaparilla all of which you can easily skip. This volume will prove a great boon to the public.

This city is sadly in need of a gravelled road between here and Deerfield. When you get out there or near the village you strike a good road and similar ones radiate into the country in all directions and there should be a good graded gravelled street between us and Deerfield.

Mr. and Mrs. D. M. Erskine returned from Burlington Iowa yesterday noon and Doctor Ingalls conveyed them home from the depot in his barouche.
