LOCAL ITEMS.

The official board will appoint a new town clerk at an early date.

The clerk of Evanston has run away with $8000 of the city's money.
Blessed is the city that has no money to steal.

Rev. P. W. Raidabaugh, D. D., of Chicago, is expected to preach in the tent next Monday evening.

Rev. J. G. Finkbeiner of Aurora, will preach in the tent of the First United Evangelical church Sunday evening, and Rev. E. S. Woodring of Chicago will help in the meetings next week. Good interest is shown, good attendance, good singing. The planks have been replaced by chairs.
Services all next week.

We see that W. S. Lasher has sold his lot just across the street north from P. A. Montgomery's residence to a Mr. Scott, who will, we hope, soon erect a fine residence thereon.
The lot has good drainage, fine chance for basement kitchen and laundry, and open to the sun. It is a good neighborhood also—Alexander, Turnley, Boyington and Montgomery; who better for neighbors?

James M. Woodman, Secretary of the Lake County Agricultural Society and editor of the Libertyville Independent, was in this city Tuesday afternoon and left some copies of the premium list of the County Fair with us for distribution. They can be found in most of the drug stores. He reports the Independent as on the crest of the wave of success and the promise is for one of the best fairs Lake County ever had. Dates Sept.
14th to 17th inclusive. Don't fail to attend.

We have just received of the American Type Founders Company a copy of the new "Handy Specimen Book" prepared for the printer, a volume of 934 pages. Of all the books of the kind we have seen during the last five and twenty years east and west this seems to be the most convenient, complete, unique and satisfactory book of its kind we ever examined. It seems to contain about everything the printers want with no padding of odd useless trash. Everything is neat, up-to-date and of practical utility. It will occupy a prominent place among our reference books.
