

ABOUT TOWN.

Buttericks patterns for sale at Miss Erskine's.

"Who are them folks with red jackets on," said a country buskin, as a bevy of golfers passed. "Them is golfers," replied the gamin, conscious of his superior urban wisdom.

We understand Mr. W. B. White, who bought the S. M. Coe 200 ft. front lot block 26, just west of Sylvan Dells school, has plans in preparation for a fine Colonial residence to be erected thereon, and he proposes to give Highland Park contractors and workmen the preference in its construction. Mr. White is a capitalist and retired Board of Trade man, and proposes to have a fine house on the finest street in Chicago's best suburb.

That was a rare and appreciative, as well as delicate kindness on the part of Mrs. Charles C. Yoe, to postpone her lawn party the week following Lieut. Dunbar's sad death at the Fort, out of respect to his memory, and the feelings of his comrades. But we are happy to state for the benefit of our society friends, that it has not been abandoned. Well and wisely ordered lawn fetes go by the moon; so look out for the ides of early September.

SPECIAL DISPATCH.

Fox Lake, Aug. 20th: We are all well. Art. Basye has gained 10 pounds; Rob. Raffin and Burns a little less, but all are happy. Fishing good. Basye caught a big eel yesterday and Raffin a monstrous pout. Look for us about Sept. 1st.

THE BOYS.

I beg to announce that I have opened a
