

ABOUT TOWN.

Buttericks patterns for sale at Miss E. skine's.

A little Klondike in school supplies at Dale Sweetland's. Look them over.

C. W. Aldridge and family returned from Europe, Thursday, glad to get home. He will tell us how Wellington won at Waterloo.

The two groceries which have had the bulk of the trade, Messrs. Evans Brothers and Wm. A. Bock, have advertised in the News right through the season.

The city officials are after the violators of the law in dead earnest these days. West side residents complain of a perfect flood of loud, coarse, foul language on the streets, and are now ready to go into court and testify. They begin to see it is their duty to testify as well as it is the courts to fine a man.

So popular is the Golf club making the Park as a summer residence town, that we are having inquiries already for houses for next summer—have one now for a choice furnished house of 10 to 12 rooms from May till October or November. If that is what you are going to have, let us know it.

Judge Peter F. Dooley is putting up an annex, about 24x32 feet ground dimensions, to be covered with corrugated iron, for a court room. First he raised his store to grade, and the sidewalk in front, and now he will have the best Justice Shop in this city. This will make every culprit take a change of venue, for if a fellow does get tight; and go on a bum, he wants not only a fair trial, but he wants to be tried in a decent place, and not such a hole or pen as the present police court room.

Some few people have seemed to be in doubt as to the most popular man in the city, but it is all settled now, and done by the Exmoor Country club, through its president, W. A. Alexander, who decided unanimously, all by himself, a few days since, to make the editor of the News an honorary member of the club, entitled to all the rights and privileges of the golf field, its club house, and especially to the key of that wonderful locker in the basement! City Attorney Smoot was the legal agent through whom the transaction was signed, sealed and delivered. Now who is the popular man, eh?
