

Highland Park News.

VOL II

HIGHLAND PARK, ILL., SEPTEMBER 24, 1897

NO 17:

DUFFY-O'CONNOR.

John C. Duffy was married Wednesday morning, Sept. 22, 1897, at 9 o'clock, by Father Madden, assisted by Father Burns of Chicago, in St. Mary's church, to Miss Agnes A. O'Connor of Chicago. The groom is the popular station agent in this city of the Northwestern railroad. He is the most popular man the road has ever had here with everybody, ladder here and has worked himself to the top in this place.

The bride is a daughter of Prof. O'Connor of Chicago, well known as a musician of high order, and his daughter inherits his gifts, supplemented by her own accomplishments. She has sung here often and is therefore well known and highly esteemed.

Frank X. Duffy was best man and Miss Jane Sheahen the bridesmaid.

their new home, on Second street, known as the Mondeau house, after October 10th. The News extends its most cordial and hearty greetings to Mr. and Mrs. John C. Duffy.

MILITARY ACADEMY.

The cut this week is of the Northwestern Military Academy, one of the best schools of the kind in the west. The old building was burned and it has always had good men. He was born and reared here; a pupil in our public schools, and since his father's death has been one of the right arms of his widowed mother in her care and support of her large family. He has had the respect and confidence of the people of this city from his youth up. Like his brothers, he early took to rail-roading, began at the bottom of the

Northwestern Military Academy and Bicycle Corps.

The ushers were Thomas S., Joseph L., William and Edward Duffy, all brothers of the groom. After the ceremony and a reception and greetings of their friends they had a wedding breakfast at Postmaster William M. Dooley's, where the bride has made her Highland Park home for some months. They took the 2:30 train for a wedding trip through Iowa and Michigan and will be at some years ago, and when to most people it seemed that the academy must collapse and perhaps it would, but Col. Davidson has a good strain of Scotch blood in him which knows no defeat, Phoenix-like, out of the ashes, the academy has arisen and the losses are nearly all made good. The school has just opened for another year with over 55 cadets, the best opening the school ever had.