

ABOUT TOWN.

Circuit court for Lake county convenes next Monday, Oct. 4th, at Waukegan. Several citizens of this city will be there for jury duty.

Mr. White, whose new home is going up near the Sylvan Dells, came out Monday to look after the job himself. He wants things to go on a little faster.

Mrs. C. C. Cheney reached home Saturday night, with her sons, from Asheville, North Carolina. Miss Cheney still remains in Asheville, we presume for the winter.

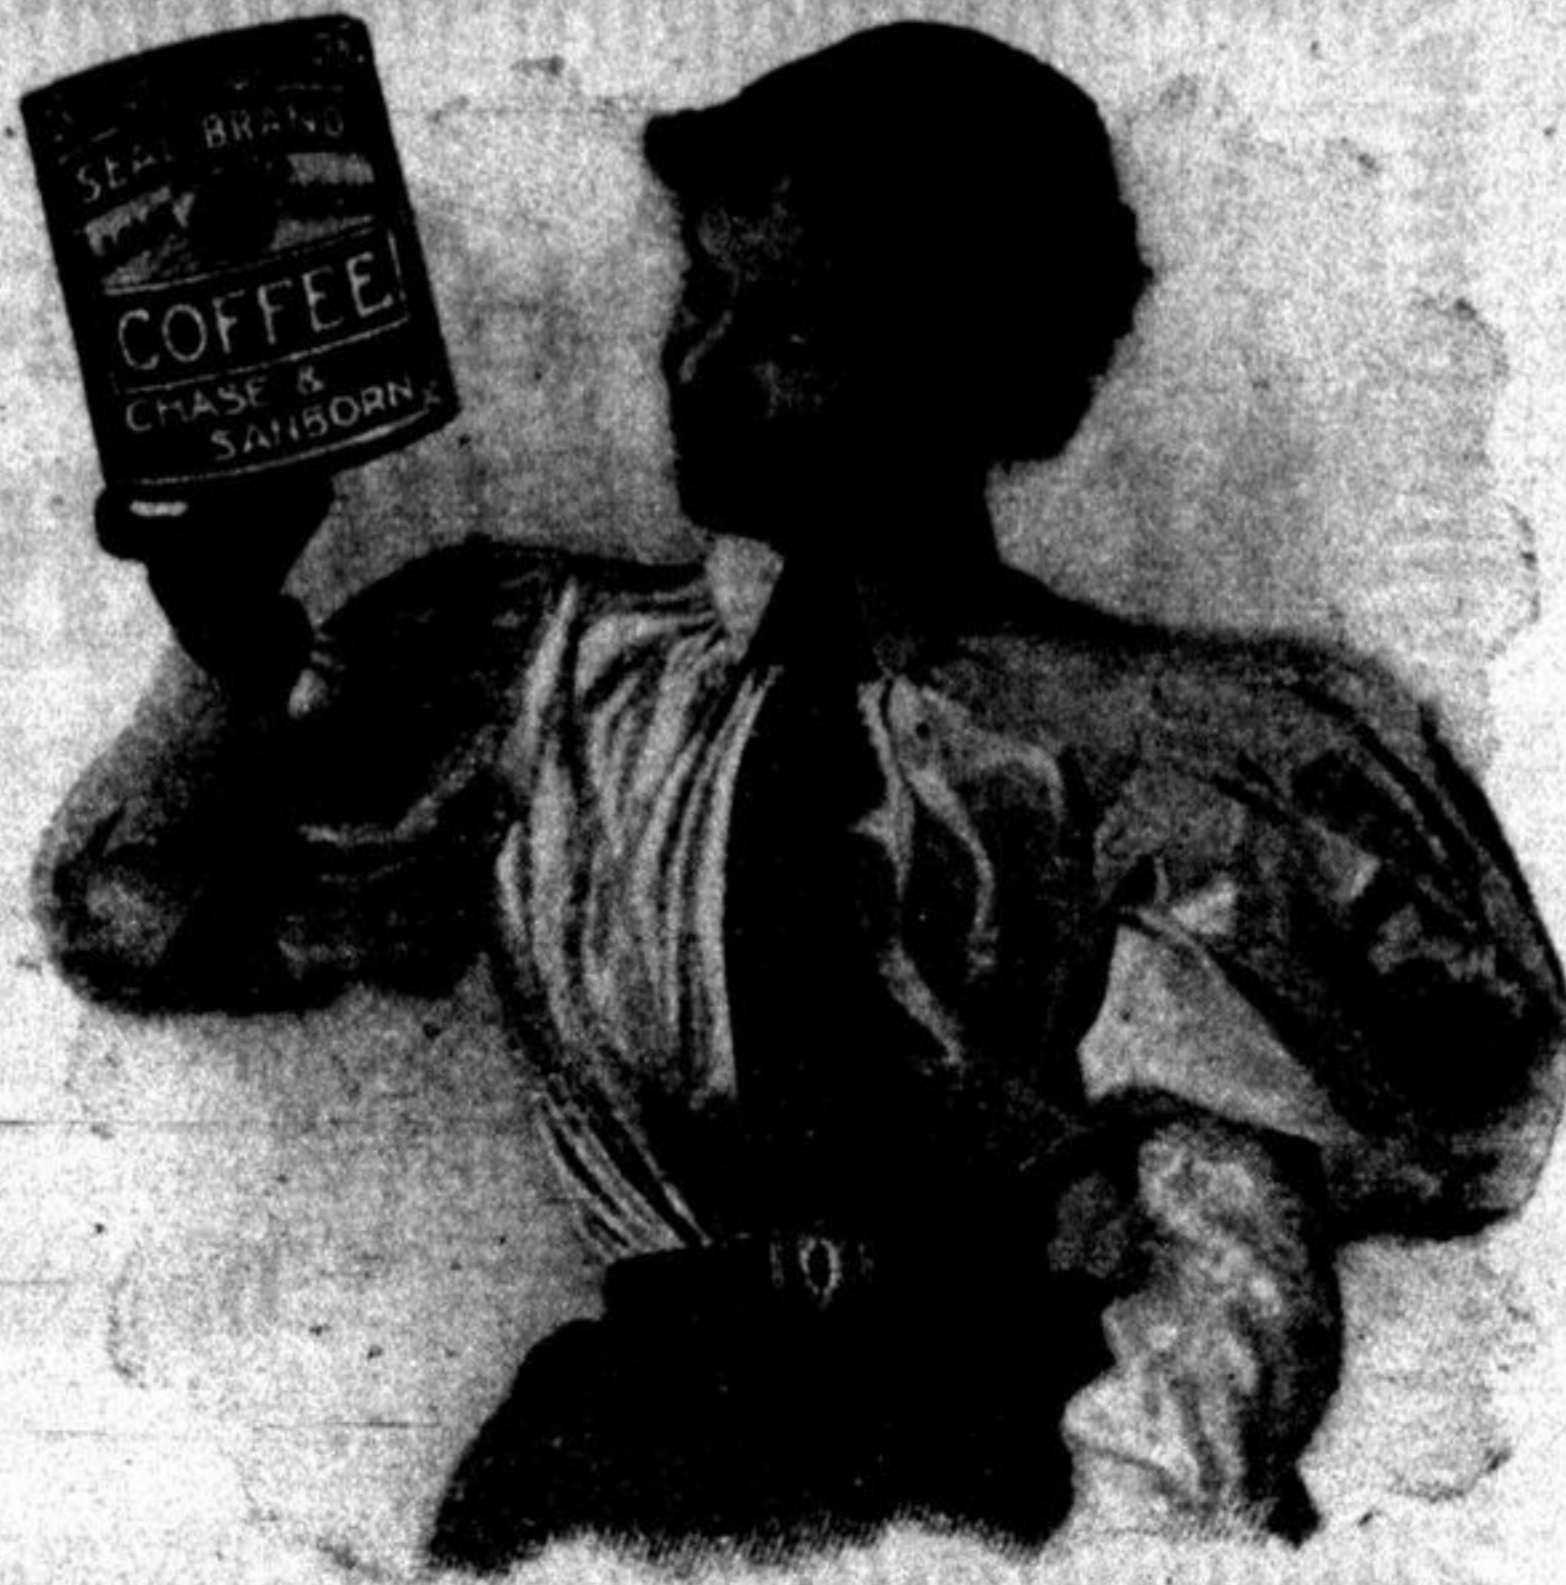

Waukegan boasts two young men who will eat pie on a wager. The one who wins and dies will be buried at the expense of the other: they bury people up there now for $25.00 spot cash.

The Northwestern railroad will run an excursion to Joliet, so you can see the drainage canal, next week Tuesday, Oct. 5, for $1.00 the round trip, without change of cars. It will be an excellent excursion, one everybody ought to take. No adult ought to allow that drainage canal to be finished and the water turned on without seeing it.

Miss Cassard gave a choice family dinner party Monday evening to Everett and Miss Millard, in honor of the former's departure this week for Harvard University. He has proved a very efficient member and official of the club, and after a year with sines, co-sines, tangents, etc., will come back next June for another effective summer, in pleasure and service at the club.

The Buckingham's left Ledgemere for Chicago Wednesday, while the Gregory's went yesterday. Mrs. Buckingham and Mrs. Gregory are sisters, and daughters of William G. Hibbard, of Hibbard, Spencer and Bartlett Co., the biggest hardware firm in the west. Mr. Hibbard was born in Vermont we believe, and is one of the 5,000 descendants of Robert Hibbert who came to Salem, Massachusetts, in 1637, one year after Roger Williams went to Rhode Island.

Apropos of the brilliant day Saturday at the Exmoor club, an expert in such matters remarked to the editor of the NEWS, "That day alone, sir, was worth a dozen new families to your city next summer. It decided the question with that number of families whether to locate in Highland Park or not next summer: they will come, sir." Essentially we believe he was right, of those who thus come not a few will build homes of their own and spend all their summers here. Is the club any help to the Park?
