

Intelligent, cultivated ladies say that the "Automatic", Willcox & Gibbs machine is the best.

The new local telephone list, put on our 'phone this week, is dated June 1st. Since that time there have been many changes, of course. There should be a list up to November, eliminating all who have gone to Chicago for the winter and whose 'phones have been closed or taken out. A directory to be real valuable needs to be correct and up-to-date.

The Thomas Manufacturing company of Wilmington, Del., who had intended locating a postal card factory in Libertyville, as was chronicled in the News some months ago, has backed out just as the factory was ready for use. The machinery will be taken out, and the building, which is a fine and substantial affair, will be offered to some other concern.

As a result of the action of the Northwestern railroad Co. in removing the gate-tender from the crossing on Central avenue to a point midway between that place and the electric light station, several serious accidents have been narrowly averted. If the city council has the power it should compel the Railroad Co. to maintain a man at each crossing, as Central avenue is one of the most dangerous on the Milwaukee division.

Waukegan has a new paper, the Waukegan Daily Sun. The Sun shines for all who want it. We say now, as we said when the Herald was started, there is not room for two evening papers in Waukegan, but if the business men want it, why let them have it. If anyone can make the enterprise a success Frank Radecke can, for it is not the long heavy editorials that win, but the locals. We may be in error and if so none will be more glad of its success than we. At all events, Brother Radecke, here is our hand.
