

HIGHWOOD HAPPENINGS.

Mrs. Meacham is very ill.

S. J. Breakwell is putting up a new barn back of his house.

Mr. T. T. Holman and wife who have spent the summer at Van Loan's, have returned to Chicago for the winter.

J. B. Hay, of Evanston, occupied the pulpit of the M. E. church last Sunday, in the absence of Rev. B. F. Crissman.

All the Bell family have returned from Dayton, Ohio, except Misses Nina and Lulu, the former of whom will stay all winter, and the latter until Thanksgiving.

Andrew Roberg won a horse at Garrity & Brown's raffle about two weeks ago. Having concluded not to keep him, he has decided to raffle him off again at Winters' store today, the 19th.

Rev. Halsey Gavitt has been obliged to remain at home from business on account of a very sore eye, which has caused the entire right side of his face to swell, and has given him a great deal of pain.

Some temporary or permanent sidewalk ought to be built in front of the city hall immediately. On last Sunday evening the correspondent had occasion to go across the gap in the sidewalk, to the great detriment of his peace of mind and of his shine.

Miss Hulda Brown was married last Thursday evening to Mr. W. P. Blanchard, late of the 15th infantry. The wedding took place at the home of the bride. After listening to a shiveree which cost the bridegroom a keg of beer, the happy couple left for Columbus, Ohio, where they will make their home in the future.

A meeting of the young people of the church was held under the direction of Mrs. Lucy Shaffer, and the organization of a literary society was discussed. It is proposed to call the organization, The Wednesday Club, to meet Wednesday evenings after prayer meeting. Each member will take part from time to time in a short program at each meeting, and the writing of original poems and stories will be demanded. The best efforts of the members will be given once a month at a public meeting, to which their friends will be invited. The club, if successful, will be a great encouragement to the literary talent of Highwood.

Some twenty or more summons have been issued in the dog license cases and called for Saturday afternoon next, Nov. 27th, from 1 till 4 o'clock.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES.

Samuel Pease, of the class of '90, visited our school last Tuesday.

Bertha Bell returned Wednesday from the east, where she attended a family reunion.

Two literary societies have been organized to conduct the literary exercises of the school.

The judges in the debate last Friday decided the time has not yet arrived for the United States to annex Cuba.

Miss Douglas has been called away from school this week on account of the death of her aunt who died in Elmhurst last Saturday.

The drawing classes met for the first time last Friday. There are more than forty pupils in the two classes; one class meets at 3 o'clock and the other at 7:30 p. m. Last Friday night Supt of Water Works Laing and Will Sampson of the Chicago Manual Training School were present and gave valuable aid and suggestions.

Some people had their doubts about the steam mill of Warren's on the west side getting work when it started up a few months ago. We presume there have been some dull times as in the history of every such enterprise. But these are not dull times. We ordered some storm windows the other day and to our surprise found orders in ahead of ours for the same and other kinds of work. There is work enough hereabouts to keep them busy all the time and they should have it.

The old police court room in the corridor of the jail is so dirty and repulsive a place, so utterly indecent for a court room that the police magistrate is negotiating for new and better quarters for the winter till the city council provides a suitable place for its courts.
