The train men who came in from Oshkosh, Menominee, and other upper Wisconsin points, report no snow storm up there.

Buy your coal, wood, kindling, etc., from A. Robertson, successor to Robertson & Nolan. He will use you right. Telephone 67. W. A. Alexander was in town Tuesday night, to see that everything was all right up on the Sheridan road and at the golf grounds.

W. W. Boyington was one of the young and sprightly business men who braved the storms and went to Chicago as soon as the trains ran.

We have a first class Portland cutter, it needs painting, hand built in a Creston shop, which cost $75; it will be sold for $20 — if any one wants it.

An insurance man succeeded in Chicago this week. If now a few sewing machine and book agents would "go and do likewise" we should feel quite reconciled.

Mrs. James Gould of Oshkosh, who has been spending the winter with her parents in Evanston, spent several days this week with Miss Anna Winchester.

The best account of the forthcoming Omaha exposition we have seen was in the Boston (Mass.) Transcript, a thousand miles farther away from Omaha than we are, and the article was written by a woman.

R. H. Miller, who has made the Park his home for the past three months, left Thursday morning, for Cumberland, Md., where he has secured a lucrative position with the Foster Decorating company, of that place.

Henry Clay Sampson put us in a hole Wednesday morning, when he asked us at the depot if this snow storm was not about equal to those they have in Vermont and we had to own up, Illinois takes the cake this time. In Canada such a storm was called a "gobuster."

Mr. Purdy has just put in a $100 worth of pocket knives, adding some twenty-five varieties to the stock he already had on hand, and now to clean out his old stock, he will sell them at less than cost. We saw the samples of his new stock, and it was a very fine assortment.

There seems to be quite an amount of gripe, or something which diagnoses very much like it, and people should be very careful about exposure. The disease is contagious and is especially dangerous for people in any way debilitated from old age, overwork or exhaustion of any kind. The great remedies are to keep warm, very warm in fact and rest, in bed is the best place, in a warm dry room.

The new five foot wide snow plow which Superintendent Nolan had constructed for the city, is an excellent machine. It cleans off the snow in good shape and leaves it well off the walk, leaving a good path for our aesthetic pedestrians.

The Baptists have a sociable Saturday (tomorrow) evening, at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Edward H. Brown, down in the "Pocket." It comes Saturday evening so pastor Vines, after spending the week with Hebrew roots and theological knots, in the University of Chicago, can come out here and get a bit of social life, pure and unrestrained. Bring your dimes, as a collection will be taken to paint and paper the young people's room.

Lake Bluff is waked up. President Loss of the Bluff Electric, has a mighty big force to get his two miles of track through that neck of woods, by next Monday night, or lose his franchise. The citizens are bound to defeat him, so as to make him pay $30,000 for his right of way, with annual passes and other fixin's for lots of folks. It looks as though Mr. Loss would come out ahead. If the denizens of the Bluff had shown good sense, they would have kept cool and let Mr. Loss lose his franchise and then nab him, but it is too late now. The electric road is one of the things the Bluff sorely needs.
