Court of Inquiry's Report on Its Way to Washington.

Will Not Be Sent to Congress Before Monday—Plan of Procedure Outlined—Alleged Policy of Intervention.

Washington, March 23.—The cabinet meeting Tuesday lasted something over an hour and was devoted exclusively to the Spanish situation in general and to the forthcoming report of the Maine court of inquiry in particular. The tone of the discussion was very firm and determined that there must come an end to the present state of affairs in Cuba. Secretary Long authorized the statement that the understanding before the cabinet was that the report would reach Washington on next Thursday or Friday; that it was very voluminous and that the publication and transmission to congress would not occur until next Monday or Tuesday, as the president would require that much time to give the document the mature consideration that its momentous character required.

Plan to Be Pursued. Other cabinet officers stated that the general plan included the sending of a presidential message along with the report, stating that Spain had been called upon to make suitable response to the case presented by the court of inquiry. While the cabinet associates of the president maintained their usual reserve as to the exact character of their deliberations, yet it was conceded that the discussion proceeded on theory that the coming report would show that the Maine explosion was not the result of an accident, but was due to an external cause. There is no doubt that substantial unanimity exists on the part of the president and all his cabinet both as to the Maine question and the general subject of Cuba.

All Phases Considered. The possibilities of a recourse to intervention in case Spain declined to make suitable response to the representations we will make after receiving the Maine report has been fully discussed. Necessarily the consideration of the Maine disaster has been an abstract discussion thus far, and no conclusion has been reached, nor is it possible until the vital question as to the court's findings is before the president and the cabinet. At the same time there is a very evident intention to consider all eventualities, including the recourse to intervention, the recognition of independence and other methods which appear to suitably meet the requirements of such a condition.

It is believed to be the intention of the president, however, to bring about a very material and satisfactory condition in Cuba by what shall seem to be the best and most practicable method of obtaining this end. It is the hope of the administration that Spain herself will so far realize the situation as to see the necessity for such radical action on her part with respect to Cuba as shall command the approbation of this country, and thus at once put an end to all differences.

Pending a decision on the government's final policy, no overtures or intimations have been conveyed to the Spanish government and there is no official knowledge as to how Spain would regard a recognition of Cuban independence or intervention. The Spanish minister, Senor Polo, requested Tuesday that a statement be made that reports attributing to him expressions on the subject of independence were unwarranted and untrue. Senor Polo says he has no discussed this or any other of the pending questions.

Alleged Policy of Intervention. It is said that apart from the Maine incident President McKinley, with the cooperation of leaders in both houses of congress, has outlined a policy of intervention in Cuba. It is believed congress will appropriate $500,000 for the relief of the starving reconcentrados, and that supplies will be sent to them as a government measure. Spain has consented to this plan, but the administration is determined, should there be any resistance, to send food in "warships and to use whatever force may be necessary.

Has Made No Protest. The navy department continues to keep informed as to the Spanish torpedo fleet, now stopping at the Canaries. Word of its departure has not reached the department. It can be stated positively that the report that President McKinley has protested against the coming of this flotilla is unwarranted. There has been no such protest.

Starts with the Report. Key West, Fla., March 23.—Lieut. Commander Marx, judge advocate of the United States naval court of inquiry into the loss of the battleship Maine, left Key West Monday afternoon on his way to Washington, taking with him the report of the court on the disaster.

Don't Expect a Favorable Report. Madrid, March 23.—Senor Moret, the minister for the colonies, told the newspaper men who waited on him Tuesday that the report of the Spanish court of inquiry would not be known as soon as had been expected. He said he believed the American report would not be as favorable as Spain desired.

Spring Medicine

These two words emphasize a necessity and indicate a remedy. SPRING—the season when the blood is most impure as a result of the winter's closer confinement, higher living, slower action of the kidneys and liver; when humors of all kinds, boils, pimples and eruptions are most liable to appear; when the weak, languid condition of the whole bodily structure demands and welcomes help.

Only those who have been relieved of great suffering can fully appreciate the gratitude with which the testimonials overflow written in favor of Hood's Sarsaparilla. Just read this:

Very Much Run Down, as I had been troubled with dyspepsia. The drain on my system was so severe and my stomach was so weak I became a ready victim of malaria. I feared I could never regain my health. My stomach rebelled at the simplest food, and the medicines prescribed for me gave but little relief. I sent for a bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla, and I had taken this medicine but three days when I began to improve. Continuing with it, I am now better and stronger than I ever expected to be. It has purified my blood and given good circulation. I have had no return of my old troubles since." Mrs. W. KANE, Media, Pa. Hood's Sarsaparilla is
