

AROUND THE COUNTY.

B. Drury is visiting friends in Rollins, after years of absence.
Deerfield has a new barber from Chicago, in Antes' basement.
Rollins is putting on airs; it has a place named "Prospect Bluff."
Lots of complaint about the "smells" at the cheese factory at Diamond Lake.

Henry Kropp and Sophia Albrecht of Prairie View were married last week.
The Vernon people want to give up the Wells' district school, for lack of pupils.

Hosea Clay Paddock of Libertyville lost a yellow horse-blanket in Buffalo Grove recently.

Buffalo Grove farmers take their oats over to the college town of Evanston and sell them at 20 cents.

Lake County Prohibitionists will hold a convention in Waukegan, Apr. 23rd, one week from tomorrow.

It seems the "Episcopians," as the boy styled them are having occasional services in Lake Forest.

E. J. Sabin of Diamond Lake is selling nursery stock to his neighbors between times, as he teaches school.

Vernon cast 118 votes for supervisor, of which J. A. Mason had 117, guess we know who cast that one opposition vote.

The Deerfield young folks had an "April fool" surprise party for Miss Mary Vetter, with April fool biscuit and lots of fun.

Barrington has just had a $42,000 fire, but we can't learn that the Review suffered. A fresh newspaper don't burn well.

A thief undertook to burglarize a Volo doctor's house, but as he found nothing but blue pills and ipecac, he quietly went away.

The Volo cheese factory has changed hands, the farmers now own it. It looks a little as though they "froze out" Mr. S. P. Heise.

James Brayfield of Grant and Guy Hook of Fox Lake "swapped" houses last week. Big times over on the west side of the county!

Dr. Taylor of Libertyville has an office also in Half Day, so the people there can have the pills and plasters prepared in up-to-date style.

Amarias White of Hainesville has sold a trotting horse for $1500, and it will cost him $3,000 to breed another to sell at the same price.

Miss Hattie Gridley of Prairie View is another Lake County student who attends college in Evanston instead of the better one in Lake Forest.

H. C. Payne of Ivanhoe will operate the Cloverdale creamery this year. He won't skim the milk and sell the cream and then "fill" the cheese with lard.

Several Ivanhoe young people are attending school in Valpariso, Ind., preparing for teachers. Why, that kind of schooling can be found nearer home.

"Nothing was Done" is the conspicuous head lines over the Waukegan city council meeting. That will fit some other places: like Wauconda or Antioch!

George Horcher had 65 chickens stolen one night recently. John Knopf lost nine sides of pork and seven hams the same night from his smoke house.

The stock of watches, clocks and silverware etc. of the late Kinsey S. Buck of Waukegan, is being sold at auction now. Oh, if that electric road was done.
