FRIDAY, MAY 13.

If Mr. Bairstow will put through his paving contract on St. Johns, in the business section, as thoroughly and rapidly as he did that bit of Central avenue last season, we will be delighted.

The Times-Herald has a column entitled "What Women are Doing." Out here in this burg the story is soon told, they are fixing over their bicycle and golf suits for the season of 1898 which will open in grand style, June 4th.

Yes, the editor of the News, begs leave to say that he has heard that Admiral Dewey was from Vermont, and he is not ashamed of the Green mountain boy either. He is the kind of a "boy" old Ethan Allen had when he took Ticonderoga.

Some very wise folks knew that young hard-headed "Joe" Leiter was a "natural born fool" when he pushed the price of wheat up to $1.00 a few months ago. It has touched $1.75 this week. It makes us think of the old days on the farm when we used to sell it for $2.00 and "strike" the half bushel at that.

The new city officials are settling into their places and the city moves on as usual, according to the good old law, when "every man did that which was right in his own eyes." Some elements of hoodlumism that were rampant a year ago have quite sobered down, so that everything promises a quiet pleasant season.

RICHARD Harding Davis, the special war correspondent of the Chicago Times-Herald, New York Herald and London Times has made a somewhat wonderful discovery which he telegraphs to all three of his papers from Tampa, Fla., to wit, that "war knits the country more closely together," ergo war is a good thing. He ought to have a leather medal!

Rev. Dr. George C. Lorimer, the famous Boston divine, formerly of Chicago, declines to be the Prohibitionist candidate for governor of Massachusetts. We expected he would. The doctor is too shrewd a man for that: he has his eye too well fixed on the main chance, and it would not help him any to run on such a ticket as that: he is not anxious to sacrifice himself yet to an idea.

"Old Glory" was in the breeze last Tuesday in honor of the capture of Fort Ticonderoga just one hundred and twenty-three years ago last Tuesday, May 10, 1775. There was bluff old Gen. Ethan Allen and his Green mountain boys, with the authority of the "Great Jehovah and the Continental Congress." Henceforth May 1st, will be a red letter day in the Vermont as well as the national calendar.

Col. Davidson is doing all that can be done and as rapidly as possible to push the extension of the St. Johns improvement north and south and we trust matters in the council will shape themselves so as to facilitate and has ten that work, for that is an improvement which interests everybody in town. It is the one piece of work now needed to give the town a boom: real estate will not make a vigorous healthy move till that is done.

Our great and only Governor Tanner has succeeded in making such a nuisance of himself that the national war department has been obliged to snub him pretty severely. That comes of machine politicians selecting such fellows for high official positions. He thought the tail could waggle the dog. Well, he has found out.

From all we can learn our soldiers gathered at Springfield have been most shabbily and shamefully treated. In this cold, damp weather poorly provided with tents and blankets, scant or poor food, or both till many are sick and in hospitals, and all suffering from wet and cold. This is not a disgrace to the state, but it is a sin and an outrage on the part of our state officials to allow such things. This is the result of our political rottenness, of Tannerism bringing forth its legitimate fruits. The idea of the governor of a state and his associates trying to use our soldiers as stepping stones to his political ambitions: we don't wonder the authorities in Washington are indignant.

HALSTEAD'S NEW BOOK.

We have received from the publishers a very fine prospectus of the able and brilliant Murat Halsted's last book "Our Country in War." It is a royal octavo volume of 600 pages or over, fully and elegantly illustrated, showing all the new ships in our navy, together with many naval engagements as well as battle fields. Its picture of the battle of Bunker Hill is the best we ever saw of that engagement. It is not merely a history of our wars on land and water, but also chapters on our diplomacy—in short it is a series of graphic and brilliant chapters on the evolution or development of these United States, and such related matters as naturally suggest themselves to the author and intelligent reader, as the struggle a century and a half ago, between France and England for supremacy on this continent, and also the history of the planting, development, decline and death of the Spanish power on this continent. This two full page maps of North and South America facing each other, one showing Spanish territory 100 years ago, all of South America, and a very large section of North America, and the other showing Spanish territory now, two little black spots only left, Cuba and Porto Rico, and they will soon be wiped off. It is a wonderful story those two maps tell.

Beginning with Washington practically the strategic points, the pivotal events, the historic epochs of our career from that day till this are told as only such a man as Murat Halsted can tell them. An old war correspondent, for a generation one of the world wide recognized journalists of this country and age, having a reputation and occupying a position all his own as conspicuous and unique as that of Horace Greeley in full tide of his career, Mr. Halstead could not do otherwise than write an entertaining and fascinating book.

The prospectus contains only portions of chapters, but these we have read with the same kind of breathless enthusiasm which we give to Macaulay, or Motley or Prescott. Read that wonderful chapter of Lord Macaulay "Before the Restoration" to us one of the most brilliant things, after his essay on "Warren Hastings," in the English language, and then turn to Halstead. We want to read every word of the book, along with Fiske and the old stately Bancroft, and then read it again and again. And what is more we want our pupils in the city and high schools to read it. Such a book ought to be in every family, it will be read if it once gets there, don't you fear for that. Arthur M. Boyington is to canvass the city for it, and it sells, a book of excellent paper, good clear type, over 600 pages, well bound in cloth for $2.00 the cheapest book of the kind on the market.

UNIVERSITY SCHOLARSHIP FREE.

An examination of applicants for free State Scholarships in the University of Illinois will be held in the office of the County Superintendent of schools, Waukegan, Friday, June 3, and Saturday, June 4.

These scholarships confer the right to receive four years of instruction in any of the regular under graduate courses, at one of the best State Universities in America.

Girls as well as boys are eligible, but all must have been residents of the county for a year preceding such examination. They must also be at least sixteen years of age.

List of branches and other particulars can be obtained of M. W. Marvin County Superintendent of schools.

LIGHTS AHEAD.

Not only must bicycles have lights when out on the streets at night, but every other carriage or vehicle from the stylish turn-out of our many millionaires to Ned Nevins' old lumber wagon. Every carriage, delivery, express, lumber and farm wagon must be lighted at night and there probably are not half a dozen carriage lamps to be had in this city. If the police force are to go for the bicycles, they must go for all these other wagons, no matter whose they are. This is the law as laid down in the new ordinances, just published, and notices ought to be posted giving owners of carriages a few days to get ready.

GOLF MATTERS

Playing is going on all the time, and the enthusiasm waxes high, while work on the buildings and grounds is being pushed as rapidly as possible consistent with good work. The grounds are also being very materially improved, so that Exmoor bids fair to so surpass its beauties and excellencies of last season, as to be almost a new establishment.

The "Grand Opening" comes Saturday, June 4th, three weeks from tomorrow, when it is expected the golfers of all this western world will be present, not excepting H. J. Whigham who when last heard from, was chasing Spaniards in Cuba.
