FRIDAY, MAY 27.

STILL they come—the friends of the Anglo-Saxon alliance. An alliance postal similar to the one Mr. Alexander sent us, from our up town neighbor, Frank C. Clark, endorsed, "Dear Judge—There are others." Glad of it brother Clark, we will have a Park branch alliance.

EVERYBODY whom we have heard speak of the Libertyville convention allude to Congressman Foss' speech in the highest terms. As read in print it shows a marked advance of his speeches four years ago, and we felt rather proud of him then. He is a growing man and it is a vigorous healthy growth, after the true style of the state of his nativity.

CARRIAGE owners would do well to read the mayor's notice about lights at night, after next Tuesday. The bicyclists say "if we have to carry lights, these other folks must serve all alike who violate the ordinance," and that is what will be done irrespective of birth, social position, political or religious affiliation, or previous condition of servitude.

WE have received a prospectus of a new medicine which will cure everybody it don't kill. It is compound of seventeen herbs like wormwood, boneset, elecampane, yellow dock, burdock, Canada Lalsam etc. That Canada stuff makes it sure and as soon as we make our will and write a few more brilliant editorials for the eager readers of the News, we shall try it.

AMONG our fellow citizens whom the Libertyville convention sent as delegates elsewhere are Alderman William J. Obee to the senatorial convention in Woodstock, June 9th, State Convention at Springfield, will have Charles B. Rice to represent us, and the Congressional Convention in Chicago, to renominate Mr. Foss, will be A. W. Fletcher who has a "pull" on Cook County fellows.

WE beg leave to acknowledge the receipt of a copy of a speech by Hon. George Edmund Foss, our member of Congress, on the American Navy old and new. It is a very able speech, full of citations from first class authorities, showing Mr. Foss' thorough mastery of the subject, and giving fresh proof of the wisdom of last Saturday's convention at Libertyville in instructing the Congressional delegates to support the renomination of Mr. Foss.

IF there is one thing more clear in the literary world than another, it is that the Atlantic Monthly under its present editorial management is the most enterprising, sagacious, successful and best magazine published this side of the water. It reads like it did in those early days of five and thirty years ago, when it dared to say bold brave things in a manly vigorous fashion. It was our favorite forty years ago and it is our favorite still, and we are glad there is one woman in Highland Park with brains and culture and sense enough to read, appreciate and subscribe for it. The war article in the June number, alone is enough to make the reputation of any ordinary periodical.

W. M. Marvin may not be the best man in Lake County for superintendent of schools, but he is most surely giving the teachers and pupils some most excellent institutes and other teachers' meetings; in fact we don't see how any one could excel him in this respect.

WE beg leave to call the attention of the city authorities to the shocking condition of Prospect avenue, in front of George D. Boulton's. The tile are broken, the catch basin stopped up or too small, so that for a dozen rods or so it must be taken up and relaid to let off the water. These last rains flooded the street and the water stood there from bank to bank till dried off by sun and wind. As long as it has got to be done, some time, it should be done at once. Mr. Boulton lies there sick and that foul disagreeable state of things won't help on his slow convalescence.

THE Lake Forester has assumed new and larger proportions, being now a six column quarto with a very large amount of local matter. It had a two column report of the Y. P. S. C. E. meeting up there last week, the same of the council meeting and so on. Editor Hartman sensibly asks the public to sustain the enterprise as an advantage to the town, which it is most surely. A local paper as large and as good as Mr. Hartman is giving Lake Forest is entitled to support in the matter of subscriptions and advertisements as well, and we think the citizens of the Forest and the Bluff will see it in the same light.

THE most bewildered man in this town was George Hessler when he came home from the Libertyville convention last Saturday. It was his first experience as a delegate, and he thought he went over to make a speech or vote or something, but he went, had a hard trip over muddy roads, lost his day, paid 35 cents for a "mighty poor dinner," said nothing and did nothing. Everything was all fixed, primed and cocked before hand, all that was done was for Charlie Whitney to pull the trigger and "bang"—that was all; the thing was done, the convention was over and we came home. "Where are we at?" George was a bit bewildered, but he is slowly recovering his normal equipoise!

Yes, "Old Glory floated to the breeze that day. How bright and lovely a morning it was, Lowell's perfect day in June. Just ten years younger than Gladstone, who died last week, the most remarkable Englishman of the era. Queen Victoria is the most remarkable woman of her era. Read for instance Trevelyan's early Life of Charles James Fox, and compare the personal, domestic, social, political and religious life of the nation in the reigns of the two Georges, Second and Third, with the same during this, Victoria's Era, and it is owing largely to the queen herself.

For such marvelous transformations we cheerfully honor her who is at once the pride and the glory of the Empire; and an honor and glory to this nineteenth century womanhood the wide world over.

Let Old Glory float in honor of Victoria's birthday, as it floats in honor of the natal days of Washington and Lincoln: she stands for all that is best in the English speaking races today and is a prophecy of all the undeveloped possibilities of those races. In her are gathered up all that is best in this century for the transmission to the twentieth century and if her successors can give the world such an uplift from her level as she gave it from that of her royal masters, well will it be for them and the world at large.

THAT ALLIANCE

The Duke of Westminster, the largest land owner and richest man in England has written a letter in favor of the Anglo-Saxon alliance, which shows that his grace is a careful reader of, and in sympathy with the News.

Dr. Newton of New York says truly, "Could the English speaking people stand together, the destinies of the world would be in their hands. The recurrence of such a crime as that in Armenia or as that in Crete or as that now before us in Cuba would be well nigh impossible. When England and America together shall say, 'This must stop,' it would stop."

So let the good work go on, till this plan of an alliance, set in motion by the News, like the shot fired at the old Concord bridge, is heard round the world. What the other nations of the world do not want is this Anglo-Saxon alliance.

We purchased a bottle of horseradish the other day and on opening it at the table we made two discoveries, one was that the radish was prepared in Racine, and the other that they know how to utilize white English turnips in Wisconsin full as well as they do in Illinois.
