LIFTING OR LEANING?

In a paper on Individual Responsibility, by Mrs. Anna Longstreth, of Philadelphia, published in the Club Woman for June, among many other good things the following verses are quoted:

There are two kinds of people on earth today,
Just two kinds of people, no more, I say.

Not the sinner and the saint, for 'tis well understood
The good are half bad and the bad are half good.

Not the rich and the poor, for to count a man's wealth
You must first know the state of his conscience and health.

Not the humble and the proud, for in life's little span
Who puts on vain airs is not counted man.

Not the happy and sad, for the swift flying years
Bring each man his laughter and each man his tears.

No the two kinds of people on earth that I mean
Are the people who lift and the people who lean.

Wherever you go, you will find the people's masses
Are always divided in just these two classes.

And oddly enough, you will find too, I ween
There is only one lifter to twenty who lean.

In which class are you? Are you easing the load
Of overtaxed lifters who toil down the road?

Or are you a leaner, who lets others bear
Your portion of labor and worry and care.

THE MUSICAL INSTITUTE.

The American Institute of Normal methods is holding its eighth session at the Military Academy. It opened last week Tuesday and closes next week Friday, August 5th. There are representatives from sixteen states present. Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Vermont, New York, New Jersey, Indiana, Michigan, Wisconsin, Minnesota, North Dakota, Iowa, Missouri, Nebraska, California and Illinois, making a school of 85 in attendance, the largest yet held in the west. They have one in Auburn, Mass., of 150 pupils, a number which this will soon surpass. There are ten instructors covering the entire field of music, drawing, penmanship and physical culture as taught in the public schools.

The aim and end of the school is to prepare teachers to exemplify these branches in their work in the public schools. Of course the pupils of this institute are practical teachers familiar with these branches, but this summer school not only puts them in touch with each other, which is of great practical value, but what is more keeps them abreast of all that is latest and best in all these several departments of their work. Every first class physician takes now and then a bit of vacation for a sort of post-graduate study in some choice medical school to "brush up" and keep himself in the forefront of his profession. That is what this school does for these teachers. And what is more, the teachers here as pupils in this institute are the cream of their profession in the west: the drones, laggards and incompetents know enough already, like the inefficient in all other professions. The Institute does thorough work; its steady growth is proof of that, if there were no other evidences of its excellence.

Prof. Lyman, who was at its head a year ago, died recently, and Prof. Emory P. Russell, in charge of the musical department of the public schools in Providence, R. I., is in charge of the school here, and is giving excellent satisfaction; Messrs Silver, Burdett & Co. of Boston, the patrons of the Institute, employ only first class instructors; in fact only that class anywhere in their extended business.

Last Sunday they had a memorial service for the late Prof. Frederic A. Lyman, the former superintendent. The school has had two "musicales" this week in the Drill Hall at 8 p. m., and will have more next week. They now hope to have a Vesper service, Sunday afternoon, in the Drill Hall at 4:30 o'clock, and they most cordially invite the public to these exercises.

Careful examination into the facts showed that the eastern school long before it reached its present proportions, made its influence felt for good on over half a million pupils in our public schools; such is its beneficent work. The business manager is Mr. F. D. Farr, and he houses and boards the entire Institute, pupils and instructors, at the Academy in a most successful manner.

We may add that the Institute is one of the things of which we of Highland Park are proud, and we waste no pride on the inferior or undeserving.

A PRETTY DINNER.

A pretty dinner was given at the Highland Hotel, on Tuesday evening by Mrs. Col. R. H. Savage to a party of friends from Chicago. Covers were laid for 12 persons. Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. Willard T. Block, Hotel Metropolitan, Mrs. C. L. Frankenthal, Miss Frankenthal, Michigan avenue, and others. The decorations were in red, white and blue, the disposition of the American and Cuban flags being especially unique.

Aside from being an author of wide reputation, Col. Savage is a conversationalist of very high order and the guests of the evening were most interestingly entertained. At present the Colonel is commissioned as Major of the 2nd United States Volunteer Engineers, located at Fort Sheridan, and hopes soon to be ordered with his regiment to active duty in Porto Rico or Manila.

It is gratifying to know that our enterprising fellow townsman, Dr. Ingalls, is so splendidly equipped to cater to the wants of the elite. Surely he is worthy of the patronage of the community.

RAVINIA.

Mr. Dings is painting one of the cottages on the Hill property.

Wednesday night's "Post" stated that our Baptist "fresh air" mission was held in Ravinia, Mich., instead of Illinois. Yesterday twenty-five more children arrived and went down to the lake bathing in the afternoon. Miss Grace Holland, the minister's niece, has decided to remain and assist in entertaining the children.

Down at Half Day, or near Aptakisic, our old Port Clinton friend, Mr. Lamson and his good wife, celebrated their golden wedding a few days ago. Mr. Lamson performed the feat of driving his old sorrel horse from Highwood to Vermont and back again one summer a few years ago and told us lots of yarns about the old state down there.

THE SCHOOL CENSUS.

W. E. Brand recently completed the census of school district No. 7, that is the central city school, including the Port Clinton affair, but not the one south near Oakwood ave. The city authorities had him at the same time take the census of the entire population of the school district. The following is the tabulated result of his work classified as the law requires:

UNDER 6 YEARS
Males	174
Females	178
UNDER 16 YEARS
Males	420
Females	386
UNDER 21 YEARS
Males	514
Females	522
Total	1036
TOTAL POPULATION
Males	1104
Females	1337
Total	2441

It will be seen that under 16 years there are 34 more boys than girls in the district, while of those under 21 years the girls have 8 more than their male competitors. In the entire population the females greatly outnumber the males, being 233 in excess out of a total of 2441 inhabitants. This arises from the excess of widows and school ma'ams.

Another point of interest is very much, the relative school population of the east and west sides. We took the school census a few years ago and found the west side had by far the larger number of school children. The figures are as follows, as given us by Mr. Brand, for the entire population:

EAST SIDE
Males	609
Females	803
Total	1412
WEST SIDE
Males	495
Females	534
Total	1029

The Hammond-Loving affair at Fort Sheridan is settled—for Hammond was the first man killed in the attack on Santiago; but that does not make Loving's conduct any better.
