

NEWSLETS.

There seems to be an unusual amount of sickness in town just now, though not of a malignant type.

Mr. and Mrs. Fredereck Fischer entertained the Park avenue Methodist church missionary society at their beautiful home on Belle avenue, Thursday.

Alderman Brand was to have a suit yesterday before Judge Comstock, but it was continued, we understand, so that the rotund alderman could enjoy the picnic.

Mr. and Mrs. D. M. Erskine are expected home from their European trip every day now, while Charles H. Warren is tempest tossed on the briny deep, on his way home from the World's Sunday school convention.

We hear City Attorney Smoot is going off for a brief vacation in a few days. Where or just when, he keeps to himself so we can't all ask him to send us a package of the fish he buys of some good fisherman up there. We don't like fresh fish, we don't.

Among the persons acquainted at the Park who went to the war was W. S. Campbell, class of '98, North Western Military Academy. He gave up his life for his country last week, at Camp Alger. Thus our Military Academy is represented on the honor roll of our country.

City Marshal Leesch reports so far 285 dogs in this city enrolled on his list, and the work is not quite done, with prospect that he will have over 300 yet. Some 18 or 20 of these have no visible or known owners and so will speedily pass out of the land of the living.

Wednesday evening, the 27th, at their home on Green street, the Misses Alford gave a lawn party to a few of their friends. The lawn to north of their home was illuminated with Japanese lanterns, as also was the porch, producing a very pretty effect. The evening was devoted to conversation, games and vocal and instrumental music. All present report a good time.

THE MUSICALE.

The musicale Institute gave a sort of "Public" Thursday evening in the Drill Hall at the Academy, with a very large and appreciative audience in attendance. These musicales are primarily for their own entertainment and practice. They are teachers from all over the west, and they want to see and hear each other sing and read on the platform outside the school rooms, and so they have two of these public recitals per week and our people enjoy it very much.

Last evening they had songs, solos, duets and choruses intermingled with readings, recitations, etc., practically covering the field of their study or work in the Institute. Of course, these little publics are of great value to them and afford us poor outsiders, rare pleasure and no little profit.

In addition to the Vesper service Sunday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock, to which the public will be cordially welcomed, there will be one or two more musicales next week before the close, Friday evening at 8 o'clock.

COLLEGE A POSSIBILITY.

Rev. H. H. Thoren is in town visiting with friends and working on the Evangelical college. He has strong hopes of being able to establish the college here. We understand that five acres of land and six thousand five hundred dollars have already been given. At least ten thousand dollars will be needed to establish the college here. The benefits which such an institution would give Highland Park are manifold. Besides an increase in population and consequently of business, a college raises the standard of culture and learning in a community. We trust that those able to help this project in any way, especially with funds, will do so now.
