Butterick's Patterns for sale at

The new addition to the Drill Hall at the Academy is being fitted up as a business department.

The second volunteer regiment of engineers, stationed at Fort Sheridan, have been sent to Monatuck, Long Island.

Some of our people attended the Woodman Lodge picnic at Diamond Lake Monday. They all report a fine time.

Arthur Parry has returned from St Louis, where he has been for the past two months in the employ of the Kellogg Switchboard Co.

Four Chicagoans were looking for summer board out here Tuesday.
They walked across the new steel girder footbridge and made inquiries.

David A. Holmes has gone to Massachusetts and litigants at this legal centre will have to put up with such justice as Judges Dooley and Hibbard can administer, or go to Ravinia or Highwood for relief.

The first katydid of the season struck up his musical note Sunday night, the 7th. Just six weeks from that date, or Sept. 18, unless the signs fail, the first frost of the season. Cover your house plants that night and carry in your tomato vines.

In the University of Chicago divinity school catalogue the cabalistic letters "n, w, sp," stand after pastor William Madison Vine's name. We have been trying to guess their meaning, and finally conclude they must mean "a wise spirit."

The musical institute has closed a most successful term; the last sweet singer has gone. Tuesday, business Manager Farr took his grip and left and now Col. Davidson is no longer obliged to sleep on an army blanket spread on the floor or a dry goods box.

We congratulate our neighbors, the Andersons, in the Rev. Smith cottage on Prospect, next Dr. Haskin's, that after having their old plank side-walk torn up several weeks, a dozen barrels of cement and a pile of gravel lying in front of their door all this while, the masons came out Tuesday and put down a fine strip of walk.

One alderman tells us he don't want next Tuesday evening council meeting confined to St. Johns avenue residents; it is a city affair. We suggested the limited size of the city hall, and he said if that were not large enough to hold those who wished to hear and be heard, go somewhere where they can get in. Let the people be heard. That's right every time: keep in touch with the people.

We spent a very pleasant forenoon Wednesday, visiting the University of Chicago. We had a brief but satisfactory visit with Comptroller Henry A. Rust. He is a Spring field, Mass., boy, an old associate of W. W. Boyington, of whom he spoke tenderly, also the late Col. James, Frank P. Hawkins, for all of whom he inquired. The University, by the way, has about 1500 students this term and will excel that number before the quarter ends.

Nearly all the streets in Madison are macadamized with rather coarser stone than we use, and the rails of the street cars are laid right through the center of the streets, and they have no trouble driving over them.
We took pains to go out into the street and walk along beside the rails for several blocks at a time to see, and their road bed is smooth and flush right up to the rails, the wheels run along on the inside shoulder or flange of the rail all right. Of course if our wheels track too wide, shorten the axles, the tracks will be here always now and the macadam may be made to fit them too.

One of our friends complains that her neighbor's boys robbed her fruit trees. Swear out a warrant, madam, heavy penalty for that kind of rascality in this city.

Lots of folks practice what they call economy, but if a real pinch should come, they would be greatly surprised to see how much their "necessary expenses" could be reduced.

Don't forget the excursion to Boston over the Nickel Plate Road, September 16th to 18th, inclusive, at rate of $19.00 for the round trip.
Good returning until September 30, 1898, inclusive. 60

Mrs. Elvira S. Green left Tuesday for a visit to her native town, home of her childhood and where her old friends dwell, Berlin, N. Y. Her friends in the Park hope she will have as pleasant a time as she anticipates.

While in Madison Saturday, W. F.
Edwards went to the state house and looked again on the colors of his old regiment, which he and his comrades followed through many a hard fought battle to ultimate and permanent victory.

We saw in a scrapbook, in the Vermont section of the Wisconsin Historical Library in Madison last Saturday, a statement that the first Sunday school in that state was started in Middlebury, in 1813 by two college students, and they thought it was possibly the first one in America.
Do any of our Lake County Sunday school workers know of an earlier one any where else?

People have wondered again and again what ex-postmaster Brand was putting up that new brick building for in the rear of his studio. We have not asked him, but after looking at the edifice with scrutinising care, we have decided that it is to have a place where he can store away the wealth he made while postmaster, and the photos of distinguished persons. There will be a great rush now to his gallery for sittings; we are in training for the purpose.

The public does not look to Idlewild generally for great discoveries in the applied sciences, nevertheless, they will find some rare exhibitions in that suburb. Not long since the leading citizen of that place set out to build a drain, and soon came to a hay stack, right in his way. He could not move the stack, tear it down he would not, tunnel under it he could not, from boulders or other obstructions, and so he pondered for a time and decided what to do,— he would run the sewer over the stack, and there it is, a tile drain over that hay stack!

Have you seen the new office of William J. McKinney? It is in the former News office in that old Thompson block. Mr. McKinney has painted the entire front of the block in a very neat and beautiful manner, and then in the office he shows samples of interior decorations, which far and away are ahead of anything of the kind in this town, in any public room.
He shows on the walls of his office there just what you can do in panel work, a style of interior house decoration we have long advocated. Just go and look at that if you want to see something novel, striking and beautiful.

EXCURSION TO BOSTON.

17 and 18, inclusive, at rate of $19.
