NEWSLETS.
Butterick's Patterns for sale at Miss Erskine's.
Raffen & Baker have just put in six tons of first class hard coal to keep one hereulean brain at fever heat next winter.

Some one has opened a new paint shop where Edward Ingalls used to have his bicycle exchange, next to Cummings' drug store.

The west foundation of the new Evangelical church, in process of construction on the west side, caved in Thursday morning. Nobody hurt and damage slight.

Take a look at the new 6 room cottage on Second Street between Central and Laurel. Bath room, furnace, etc. For sale on easy monthly payments by Henry K. Coale.

General Shafter reports the total list of prisoners taken in Cuba and Porto Rico as 27,726, enough to make quite a town, but such a town those poor fellows would make. Send them home, quick.

Miss Eleanor Smoot accompanied her father on his vacation trip to Ocean City. The attorney's sister has a summer home, so Eleanor will visit her aunt and sniff the ocean air both at the same time.

Don't forget that the Lake County Fair opens in Libertyville, Sept. 13, two weeks from next Tuesday, and everything points to the most successful fair ever held, and Lake County stands in the front rank in Illinois.

The time draws nigh for schools to commence, when the children will need pads and pencils and sorts of school appliances. Don't forget that Evens & Forrest carry the finest stock in town and at the very lowest prices.

The condition of J. M. Bilharz, who has been ill with typhoid fever for two or three weeks, was so improved that Dr. Ingalls, who has been attending him, allowed his removal to his home in Waukegan, last Sunday.

There was a social function Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs.
Laura Dayton Fessenden, from three to six o'clock, guests chiefly from Chicago, though a few from the Park, as Mrs. Wilford H. Hall, Mrs. Ashton and some others.

The pen name of J. McGregor Adams home is "Yarrow." We wish to secure the pen name of every place in the city, so far as they have them as, Happie-go-luckie, Ravi-oaks, Egandale, etc. Send us the names please and so help us make up a complete list.

George Hessler came here in 1847 or 51 years ago. In 1860 he went to Cuba, Central America, California, up on Puget Sound and back again in 1865. During his absence, John C. Coe came to town. Mr. Hessler and Peter Leesch are about all the old pioneers of those early days left.
There was no Northwestern railroad, no electric cars and no Highland Park News then.

The days of the summer boarder and the summer resident are numbered, and poor folks they have to look forward to a long dreary winter in the stifling, smoky atmosphere of Chicago, with the Chicago river to drink from and the Chicago City Council to rule them. If ever people were entitled to our sympathy, it is these folks compelled to go back to town for a long winter.

Lou J. Yager of Waukegan, so well and widely known in connection with B. Y. P. U. and C. E. work is one of Lake County's bright young men and what is more he believes, and practices his belief, that business can be run on Christian principles.
The first of September he opens a ready made clothing house on his own hook. Go and see him, you can rely on what Lou tells you everytime.

William King, the ablest mathe-matician in this city, has gone to La Porte, Ind., for a brief vacation with his brother, a resident of that city.

Miss Alice Davidson is spending her summer with Mrs. Davidson, the widow of banker Milo Davidson, a cousin of the Colonel, in Newfane, Vermont.

Any one wanting to rent a good house, furnished or unfurnished for the winter, will find profit and comfort by consulting the distinguished editor of this able and popular journal.

James H. Duffy, the express and delivery man, has been putting in carload lots of coal for folks who buy it in that way. He is very prompt and careful in his work, hence people like to employ him a second time.

H. C. Paddock of Libertyville, was in town last week distributing the premium lists for the forthcoming Lake County Fair, Sept. 13 to the 16th, inclusive. We observe that larger premiums are offered on the races, $50 to the base-ball purse and something to the bicycle purse. Here is a chance for some of our wheel experts to win a fortune and fame.

There is being put in a new cement sidewalk on Laurel avenue, in front of the lot just west of Alderman Cobb.
We think Mrs. Van Shaick owns it.
A new one will soon go down in front of the McQuiston property, making then one unbroken strip of cement walk from Central avenue up past the Prussing place. The city should extend all the street corners to the street lines, and do away with these plank crossings.

So far as we know the only building going on in town, is the annex to the Military Academy; the large addition to Mrs. Clara P. Smith's residence, with a choice bow window on the southwest corner; an addition to L. O. Van Riper's home; some sort of a rear addition to the J. F. Leaming house, near the Trinity church; the new city pound; Charles M.
Green's home thoroughly rebuilt and enlarged early in the season, and the editor's new steel, stringer footbridge.

The county committee did a very wise thing in having the County convention come off the Saturday before the County Fair begins. Every body will know the successful candidates, and want to see them. Of course all the men nominated will feel obliged to attend the fair, shake hands with the people, kiss the babies, and tell every farmer his corn and pumpkins and cows etc. are the finest in the world. This arrangement will boom the Fair, and therein we rejoice.

Republican County convention at Libertyville, Sept. 10th, two weeks from tomorrow to nominate the following county officers: Sheriff, Judge Clerk, Superintendent of schools and Treasurer. There is no contest over the clerk or judge, no one thinks of any one but Clerk Hendee and Judge Jones. Mr. Hendee is competent, he attends strictly to his business, he is courteous and honest, while Judge Jones is capable, affable, commends himself to the bar by his bearings and rulings and to the people by his integrity, promptness and impartiality.
