

A SOUVENIR OF HIGHLAND PARK.

A Preface to the New's Forthcoming Special Illustrated Edition.

A strict and careful comparison of the resources, developments and opportunities of our town with those of any other locality in the vicinity of Chicago can not fail to convince the investigator that Highland Park is naturally destined to become a great residence suburb. The enterprising people of Highland Park fully realize this fact, and believe the time is ripe for the appearance of an exact, truthful and attractive publication, which with pointed paragraphs and faithful pictures, will show to the world what manner of town is this of ours.

With this end in view THE NEWS has secured the services of Messrs. McNulty and Brownlee of Chicago, and have placed in their competent hands the preparation and compiling of this edition. These gentlemen are widely and favorably known as newspaper specialists of marked ability. In order that the Souvenir Edition may fully attain its desired object THE NEWS expects to receive the hearty and substantial co-operation of every enterprising citizen of Highland Park. If this expectation is realized we can unhesitatingly promise you a literary and artistic treat. A book brim-full of facts calculated to carry conviction to the readers mind that Highland Park is the suburb for those who seek a home, health, happiness and investment.

FORT SHERIDAN PARK.

Mr. Joslyn, the manager of Fort Sheridan Park, has secured some fine entertainers for next week. Among them we notice quite a few who have national reputations in their acts. Among them we note the Schwartz children, champion baby cake walkers of the world, who have been rightly styled the wonders of the 19th century. They are the winners of many cakes and medals and alone are worth more than the price of admission. The Lesters, Mamie and Chas—a refined comedy sketch team, have been engaged for the week; Miss Lillian Starr has consented to remain another week and will delight all patrons with the popular ballads of the day; also Harry and May Howard in their refined and neat buck and flat foot dancing; the whole to conclude with a laughable boxing act. Where can you get so much for so little money.

In case of cold weather, Mr. Joslyn advises the News the entertainment will be held in the new pavilion which is warm, neat and cosy.

THE TROLLY PARTY

A company of forty-nine persons chartered a couple of cars on the trolley line to Waukegan and return last night, leaving the Park at 7:30 and returning at 11 o'clock. Mayor Evans and Alderman Brand and wives went along to see that the city ordinances were kept. Then James Bowden, Charles H. Warren, H. M. Prior, G. Elvey, and Mr. Millen with their wives served as moral ballast to the company of younger people.

Waukegan was somewhat surprised at the arrival of such a large, well conducted and liberal party from the Park, but welcomed them and said "come again."

There were no special incidents en route, only every one had a charming time and all want to repeat the experiment. The managers of the road did all in their power to make it pleasant and succeeded admirably.

Mrs. Elvira S. Green returned yesterday from her trip to Berlin, N. Y., her childhood home, having been gone one month and a day, and she says every moment was filled with pleasure, visiting old friends, old places, and renewing old acquaintances. Very many of course have passed away, but the old memories are left and will remain while life shall last.

We regret to learn, just as we go to press that Mr. Augustus C. Campbell, whose home was down on Belle avenue, overlooking the lake, died early this morning. He had been ill several weeks, though we had not anticipated this fatal result. The time of the funeral has not been decided.

The first choice lot of dogs are in the city pound awaiting the executioners ax. They set up a howl between times to entertain the city clerk and marshal in their work. There are more to follow, and the marshal will keep it up all winter or till the last unlicensed cur is gone.

City Attorney Smoot returned to his city, his family and his work Wednesday in first-class health. He is as bronzed from the ocean wind as any old sailor. He says they had no excessive heat on the Atlantic coast, but he struck our hot wave in Washington where the thermometer stood 94 in the shade and perspiring was an easy it not very comfortable process.

Republicans should not fail of the caucus this evening. Let Deerfield go to the convention tomorrow with a solid front, bold, outspoken and decided. Delegates go not to represent their own views or whims, but the party in this town. The party in this town want A. W. Fletcher for county sheriff, the way, the only way to get it is for the delegates to go there solid for him, and no one else. The way not to get anything now or any other time is to go divided.

Mr. and Mrs. George D. Boulton gave a lawn party last evening for their daughters. Guests were present by the score from this city and a goodly number from Chicago. The large lawns were beautifully lighted with Japanese lanterns. Musicians from Chicago provided that part of the entertainment, and the large rooms gave plenty of opportunity for dancing. Refreshments were served in abundance, and though the evening became a little cool out of doors, the ice cream was not at a discount at any time. Those present pronounce it one of the most enjoyable parties of the season.
