

trade in that time of which he has good reason to be proud. He carries a splendid line of staple and fancy groceries and provisions, together with an elegant and up-to-date stock of men's furnishing goods. In his line Mr. Shannon is a recognized leader. He fully understands the requirements of his particular trade and aims to keep only the best and most reliable goods in stock. He enjoys a splendid and growing trade which can be considered a just tribute to his merits as a merchant, and his popularity as a citizen of Fort Sheridan.

A. A. DAHL.

No class of men are so noted for critical exactness and elegance of attire as the officers and soldiers of the American army, and the tailors who cater to their trade must be men with

JOHN GARITY.

This meat market, established several years ago by the present proprietor, is a notable feature in the business life of Highwood. Mr. Graves, who was born and reared here, is a capable and experienced butcher, and his patrons can always expect to receive the very best and most tender cuts of beef, pork and mutton. He carries a fine stock of provisions and smoked meats and his market is one of the neatest and best patronized hereabouts. He has a large and growing trade and is becoming known as a representative business man of this town.

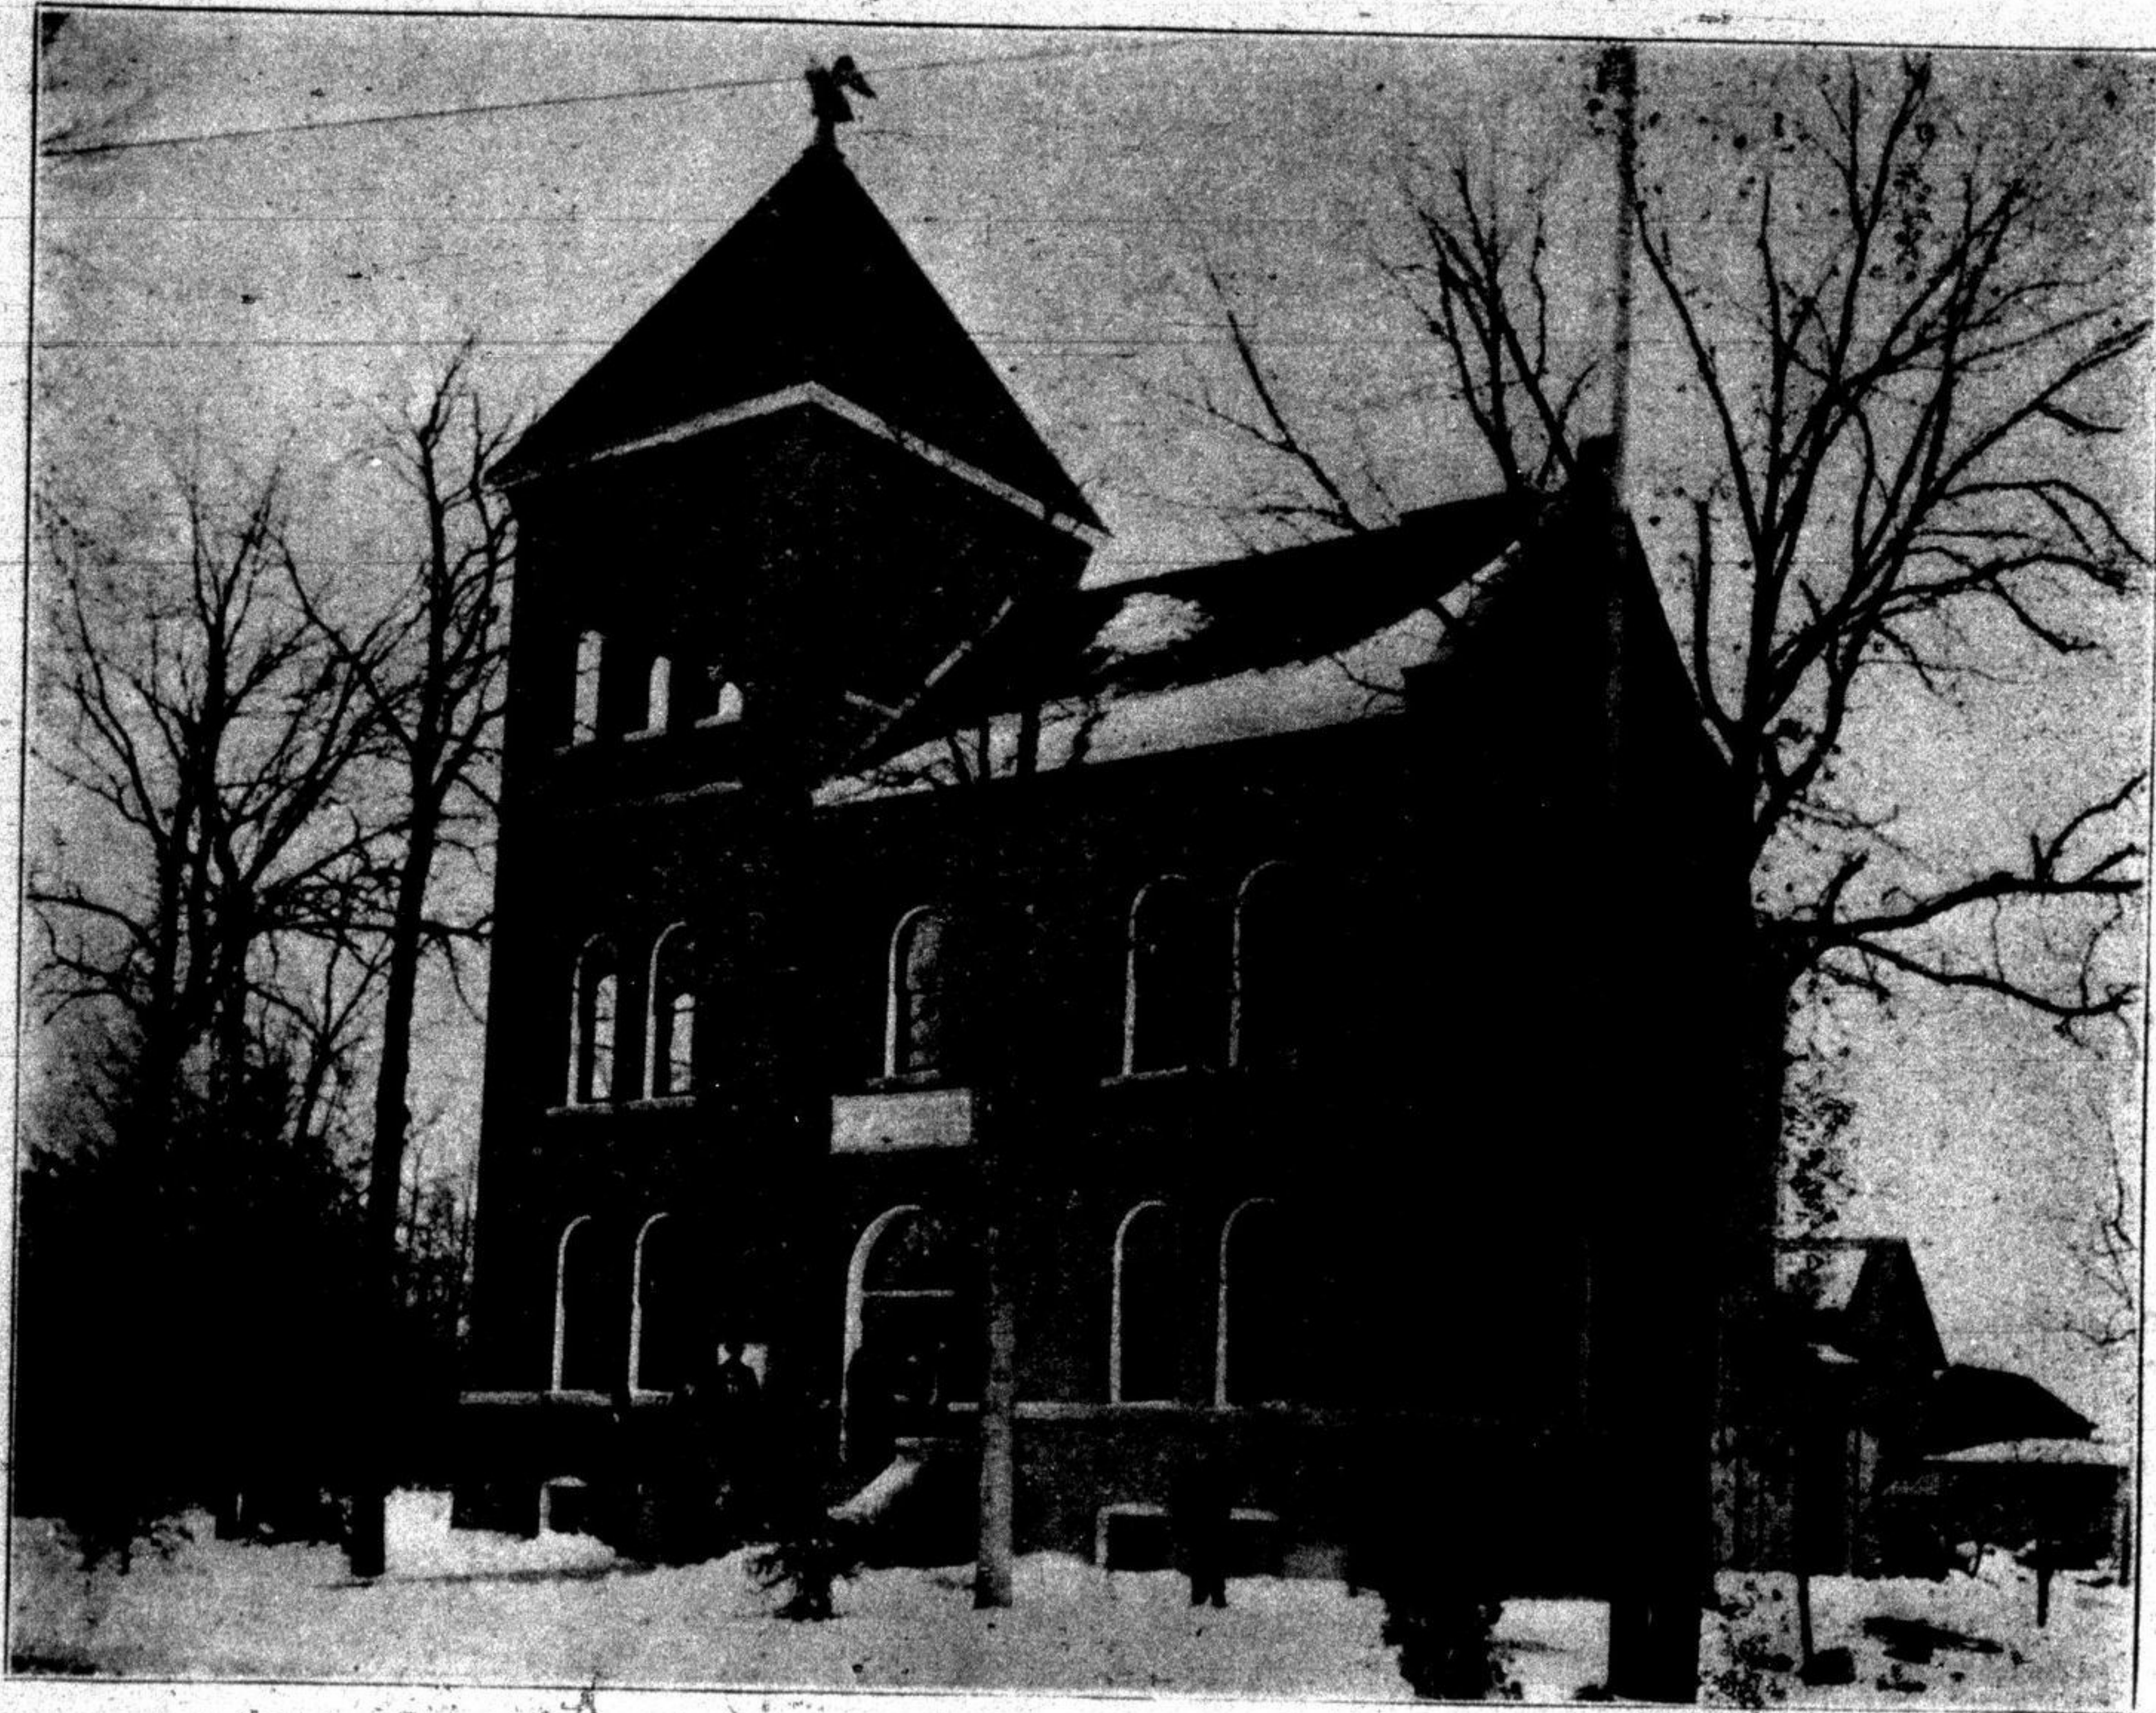

R. E. WINTER.

Mr. Winter has a monopoly in Highwood in the jewelry and repair line. He located here in May, 1889, and by his skill and attention to business has kinds of brazing, enameling, vulcanizing, etc., in a prompt, reasonable and workmanlike manner. Their shop is in a fine location and their business is growing and prosperous.

FRITSCH BROTHERS.

One of the best-known and most liberally patronized business houses in Highwood is the general merchandise store of Fritsch Brothers, established by the present proprietors ten years ago. Their liberal and aggressive business policy, taken together with a fine and well assorted stock of general merchandise, has brought to them a large and increasing trade. These merchants carry all varieties of dry goods, hardware, groceries, shoes and notions. Their store is conveniently located, and their extensive trade must be a matter of great satis-intimate knowledge of military requirements. Mr. A. A. Dahl, the military tailor of Fort Sheridan, is one of the best and most favorably known artists in his line in the United States. He was for a long time in the service, and has for the past seven years been located in Fort Sheridan. He enjoys the respect and patronage of the army officers and enlisted men of every rank and his work is noted for its correctness and elegance. His specialty is the making and repairing of uniforms and products of his skill are to be found in every army post in the country. He enjoys a splendid trade and is a recognized authority upon the details of American military tailoring.

VILLAGE HALL, FORT SHERIDAN.

built up a fine and growing trade. He is an expert watchmaker and his work is giving entire satisfaction. Mr. Winter carries a nice stock of watches, clocks, jewelry and notions. He also handles cigars and tobacco of the best known and most popular brands. He has made lots of friends and has been a successful merchant ever since he opened his doors for business in 1889.

WEBSTER & DENMAN.

Since this splendid bicycle shop was opened, over two years ago, it has become well and favorably known to the thousands of wheel people who have occasion to enjoy the charming scenery of the North Shore. They are expert repairmen, do all faction to the proprietors, who are business men of merit, popularity and standing in this community.

J. B. DENMAN.

This well-known and prosperous business was established six years ago by Mr. Denman, and has contributed very materially to the growth and substantial upbuilding of Highwood and Fort Sheridan. Mr. Denman carries a carefully selected stock of lumber, lath, shingles and building material of all description. He is prepared to promptly estimate on any class of building material and his prices will compare favorably with any North Shore competitor. Mr. Denman handles all grades of hard and