

HIGHLAND PARK POSTOFFICE

ARRIVAL.
 From the north . . . 12.47, 3.14 p. m.
 From the south, 7.30, 9.12, 11.39 a. m., 12.07, 3.25, 5.37, 7.29 p. m.
DEPARTURE.
 For the south, 6.50, 9.30 a. m., 12.47, 3.14,
 5.33, 7.29 p. m.
 For the north . . . 9.12, 11.39 a. m., 7.29 p. m.
 Mail pouches close 15 minutes before the departure of trains. W. M. DOOLEY, Postmaster.

Directory of Secret Societies.

Cheskotong Tribe, I. O. R. M. No. 112—
 Meet at Masonic Hall first and third Tuesdays
 F. M. Ingalls, Sachem; J. H. Duffy, C. of R.
 A. O. Fay Lodge, A. F. and A. M. Regular meeting nights first and third Monday in each month, at Masonic hall, over M. Moses & store.

Independent Order Foresters, Court Highland. Meetings first and third Thursdays of each month in Forester's Hall.

Modern Woodmen of America. Meetings first and fourth Friday of each month in Foresters' hall. William Danner, V. C.; R. J.
 Rice, Clerk.

Highland Park Council No. 1066, Royal Arcanum. Meet in Mosonic hall second and fourth Mondays of every month. Regent,
 W. A. Wilson; secretary, Frank B. Green.

A BOOK FOR BOYS.

Many books are written for boys that are no good for them or anyone else. But here is one written for boys that is good, and the writer tested it as he wrote,—by reading each successive chapter to his own boy as it was written, and so writing that the lad's deep interest did not flag from first to last. If any point failed to interest, instruct or stimulate the boy's best instincts, it was re-written or wholly eliminated. In other words, the book is constructed on an exact level or plane of a healthy boys mind, ambition and knowledge, hence it hits the mark in every incident, personage, motive and event. The result is that every boy,—whether he is twelve or sixty years old,—will read every page with zest and increasing interest.

The author of the book is Byron A. Dunn, the late editor of the Waukegan Register. It is well, we may say admirably written, not a slangy, coarse or slovenly sentence in it. Mr. Dunn was a Missouri Unionist during the Rebellion, and it cost something to be loyal in those border states of Missouri, Kentucky, Tennessee and the Virginias. The scene is laid in Kentucky and Tennessee, the chief battles those of Mill Creek, Donnelson and Shiloh, and in these we understand Mr. Dunn took part, and so he writes as "one who was there." The hero is a young Kentuckian, perhaps sixteen years old, his father a rebel planter, while his dead mother was a high toned New England lady, loyal to the last to the old flag. This boy becomes bluff, daring and brave "General Nelson's Scout," and that's the name of the book. Fred has a cousin whom he dearly loves, who is as strong a rebel as Fred is a Unionist. The book tells of Fred's noble blood, his reverence for his mother, his love for his father, and his loyalty, and then of his daring exploits for Gen. Nelson, Thomas, Buel, Sherman and others from the battle of Bull Run to Shiloh where his father was wounded and Gen. Albert Sidney Johnson, the ablest rebel general then, was killed. It cost Fred many trials to be loyal, with his father and all his living relatives on the Confederate side.

But as a history of those times in Kentucky and Tennessee, if what loyalty meant on the border, of its high-toned, self-sacrificing manhood, with its perils and penalties this book has no superior. It is true history; its description of the awful battle of Shiloh we regard as unrivalled, and we have compared it with standard authorities, but Dunn was in it and he knows. We like to praise the book because of its moral tone, so high, pure, noble and inspiring, and yet there is not a line of "preach" in it. We have read every page and line, with pencil in hand for criticisms, and could write them all on the back of a postage stamp—an Omaha one. We know of no $1.25 book we would sooner buy for a boy than this, and we wish every boy in this city, in the land could read; yes, own it so he could read it again and again till he knew all about Fred, the brave and fearless scout, his cousin Calhoun, his father and all the rest. It is published by Gen. McClurg house of Chicago, in their best style, and there is none better anywhere. Get it for your boy, or some other boy.

WANTED—A man and wife, no children, to occupy residence with fuel, light and rent free, for taking care of two horses during the winter. Owner will furnish feed. Must furnish good reference. Address 31, News.

FOR SALE, TO RENT, ETC

[All items under the above headings, including Situations Wanted, Help Wanted, Lost, Found, Etc., 5 Cents per Line. Special rates made known on application at this office, for more than one insertion.]

FOR SALE—2 bedroom sets and other furniture. Enquire of Mrs. Wainwright, 73 Fort Sheridan, Ill.

WANTED—A small cottage, or 3 or 4 rooms, unfurnished. Rent moderate, good location. Address box 77 Highland Park.

WANTED—Reliable man in this vicinity to open small office and handle my goods. Position permanent and good pay. If your record is O. K. and you want steady employment, here is an opening for you. Kindly mention this paper when writing.
 A. T. MORRIS, Cincinnati, O.

FOR SALE—Two thoroughbred brown leghorn cockerals $1.00 each, if sold at once. John Wycoff, St. John's Place.

FOR SALE—Fine heater, used one season (Royal Red Cross,) cheap with pipe and zinc; 1 bed room set, painted panels; 1 folding bed, 1 hair mattress; 1 globe lamp; 1 fine violin with case and bow. Address 202 Highland Park, Ill.

TO RENT—Modern house for three years, to responsible parties only. Furnished or unfurnished. May or sooner. Address box 202 Highland Park.

TO RENT—8 roomed house, modern, large garret, 2 floors and basement, furnace, electric lights bath, hot and cold water, laundry, etc.; long lease to responsible tenants. Address box 202 Highland Park.

FOR SALE—A No. 3 Drop head White sewing machine. Will be delivered direct from factory at wholesale price $30. Retail for $65. A rare opportunity for anyone needing such a machine. Apply at this office.

Residence property for sale cheap Lot No. Seven (7) Block No. Twenty-nine (29): 275 foot front; sewer in. C. E. Hathway, owner, Northfield, Minn.

Less Than 7c. a Day
 For the comfort, convenience and safety of your home have a telephone in your residence.
 Chicago Telephone Co.,
 Geo. B. Cummings, Mgr.