

NEW TELEGRAPH OFFICE.

A growing town attracts to itself all kinds of desirable things. The world is learning of the Park and its fine future. As evidences of this is to stop here. And now the Postal telegraph company, whose wires go through the city, over on the Green Bay road, are to open an office in a few days, in Fred Schumacher's drug store, with James H. Duffy, the oldest and best operator this town ever had, in charge. He will continue his parcel express, and baggage delivery all the same, but will himself have his headquarters and office in at Mr. Schumacher's.

How much cut in rates, if any, we can't say, but it will be a public benefit to have two competing lines, that is sure. Another thing, there is a phone in this new Postal's office, and when you wish to send a message from your home, phone it up to Jimmie, and it will go to the ends of the earth if necessary. This is just the thing all around.

Ten young people from the Young Peoples Society of the Baptist Church attended the ninth annual convention in Chicago last night.

Some wonderful transformation has come over the incandescent lights in our neighborhood this week. For a long time they have been dim and unsteady, but now they are as even and bright as the sun, not a flicker in the whole evening. Guess the boys have overhauled that old dynamo nailed up on a telegraph pole by the road side.

"Last evening the Sunset Club at Highland Park held a stag party to which a number from here were invited. Among those who attended were County Clerk A. L. Hendee, C. A. Murray and W. B. Smith."—Waukegan Sun. This shows that the Sunset wants its fellows up at the county seat to enjoy a good square meal once in a while, such as the Highland Hotel furnishes its guests.

Soloman said there was no evil under the sun in his day. There are several of them in our day, and one is the lawlessness of some boys. Thus cred the boys threw a hard ball one morning lately through one of Mrs. Andrew Bock's front store window panes. As those are about $10.00 panes of glass, it is rather serious business. The Bocks, we understand, know who the boy is, and can make him smart for it if they see fit. This ball-throwing should be stopped.
