SATURDAY JANUARY 28.

COMMENCING with the current issue the HIGHLAND PARK NEWS will be published on Saturday of each week instead of Friday as formerly. This change will give our readers a more complete and timely local news service.

It may not, perhaps, be inopportune at this time to announce that the incoming management of the NEWS proposes to exert every possible effort to make this paper a bright, dignified and reliable chronicle of North Shore happenings, and a staunch advocate of the best interests of the territory in which our paper will circulate. Starting under favorable auspices, and at a time when a general revival of enterprise and development seems assured, the new proprietors will sincerely endeavor to make their publication in all respects worthy of the field it assumes to represent. The NEWS, with entire candor, claims to be absolutely free from entangling alliances of any nature whatsoever. We believe that the towns within our new radius will appreciate and heartily support a clean, vigorous and impartial journal especially when it shall be demonstrated that the paper is being conducted upon sound business principles.

When once fairly under way we propose to make the NEWS equally local to each community reached by our service. We ask, and shall expect to receive, the hearty support and co-operation of those whose interests are, for the most part, much greater than our own just so long as our enterprise is conducted upon the lines we have indicated.

CADETS AT THE CONCERT.

Thousands of people who were on Chicago's down town streets on Monday evening were surprised and pleased at the spectacle of a body of straight, lithe cadets, dressed in the most approved military manner and marching in orderly procession under the direction of their officers with all the martial appearance of seasoned veterans. The occasion was one of the frequent outings given by the faculty of the Northwestern Military Academy, and the forty cadets were the older students from the Highland Park institution on their way from the Northwestern depot to the Auditorium, where in company with many of our society people, a delightful musical performance was enjoyed.

Col. H. P. Davidson and Major Davidson arranged all the details of the trip. A special car was attached to the 5:52 train and the entire faculty accompanied the boys. A section had been reserved at the Auditorium for the Highland Park party who attended the fourth annual concert given in benefit of the Presbyterian Hospital. After a happy evening the party returned on a late train, reaching the Academy about midnight. Accompanying the cadets were the faculty with their wives and the following representative members of local social life: Rev. and Mrs. Pfanstiehl, Mr. and Mrs. R.W. Patton, Mr. and Mrs. Vail and son, Mrs. Smith and daughter, Mrs. C. Cushing, Mrs. Mason, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Schauffler, Miss Ellen Van Schaick, Miss Margery Boulton, Miss Maud Stewart, Miss Erskine, Miss Holmes, Mrs. Will Morgan, Mr. Anson Morgan and Miss O'Day of St. Louis, who is a guest of the Morgans.

On Sunday morning Rev. Robert Morris Rabb will consider the subject: "What is religion." The evening subject will be: "Laborers wanted." The evening service will be conducted in connection with the Young Peoples Union.

IMPROVING THE SERVICE.

District Manager Whitehead of the Chicago Telephone Company reports unusual activity in construction work all along the North Shore. His men are now running several new lines in Highland Park, and are connecting with the local exchange the residences of Mr. John A. Putnam and Mr. A. O. Mason. The Northwestern depot has recently been connected, greatly to the convenience of the public.

Profiting by the experience of previous years, the company are now making elaborate provisions for handling the large and increasing summer patronage. Mr. Whitehead promises a new and additional toll line to Chicago which will handle Highland Park business exclusively. This direct wire will save the vexatious delays which are bound to occur upon main line, long distance circuits. The "party-line" system, so successfully introduced in Chicago, is already becoming an appreciated and well patronized feature. Aside from the greater cheapness of the party line service, which costs subscribers but seven cents a day, the subscribers are given the use of long distance instruments and metallic circuits. These instruments are placed upon the circuits in sets of four and by a most ingenious device the central operator is enabled to call the number desired without ringing up the other phones on the line.

Connection has also been made with the Libertyville and central Lake County exchanges hitherto isolated and inaccessible. The company has now over a hundred subscribers in Highland Park and the service is commendable in all particulars.

The interment of the remains of the late Arthur Reid, son of Simon Reid of Lake Forest took place upon Tuesday last. The body had lain in the cemetery vault at Lake Forest for ten days, pending the arrival of the sister of the decedent, Mrs. Barnes, who with her husband, was abroad when her brother died. Mr. and Mrs. Barnes hastened from Paris, arriving at their saddened home last Monday.
