Robt. Raffin is back at his desk after a brief illness.

Schneider & Cooke have bought the stationery stock formerly carried by Evans & Forrest and will eventually add a full line of school supplies.

H. W. Davis, who has been ill with typhoid fever for some time and has been at the Presbyterian hospital for treatment, is reported as being much better.

There are marked indications to show that Highland Park will actively participate in the substantial building boom which spring will bring to the north shore.

Mr. Will Fischer, son of F. Fischer, and a prosperous Seattle merchant, is visiting his home town. Mr. Fischer came over the southern route and has had a most enjoyable trip.

Miss Anne Andrus and Miss May Cass of Austin spent Sunday at the home of Mrs. Chas. H. Baker. The three were chums at school, but have not all been together before since graduation.

Judging from the large crowd of young people who assemble nightly and the enthusiasm manifested, the skating rink on Mrs. Van Schaick's lot is one of the most popular institutions the Park has ever had.

Attention is called to the complete time table, which appears in this issue, showing the schedule of all cars of the C. & M. E. Ry. The time card will also be printed in convenient form for pocket use and handy reference and will be circulated by several of the leading business men of the North Shore.

Col. P. T. Turnley, one of Highland Park's most notable residents participated in the feast given by the Chicago Argonauts at the Tremont House, to mark the fifty-first anniversary of the discovery of gold in California. There were present thirty-two pioneers who crossed the great divide or went round the Horn in the "days of '49." The present association was organized ten years ago. Col. Turnley and the Rev. Jenkin Lloyd Jones responded to toasts. The average age of those present was seventy-two years.
