

ST MARY'S ENTERTAINMENT.

The literary and musical entertainment given under the auspices of St Mary's Catholic church at McDonald's hall on Thursday evening was in all respects the most successful affair of the kind ever undertaken by that enterprising congregation. It was feared that the extraordinary inclemency of the weather would mitigate against the success of the concert which was given to raise funds for the purchase of a church organ, but the hall was uncomfortably crowded and many were unable to gain admission.

The program commenced with an overture by Prior's orchestra, followed by a recitation by Miss McCarthy, one of Chicago's leading entertainers. She greatly pleased the audience and was recalled for an encore. "Good-Bye, Sweet Day," a basso solo by Mr. Gus Wuerst was received in a gratifying manner and by special request he sang a final number in a masterly manner at the end of the program. Liszt's "Rhapsodie No. 2," as rendered by Miss Clara Dausch, a pupil of Prof. Wolfsohm, showed the young lady's remarkable ability as a pianiste, and no more brilliant rendition of this classic has ever been heard on the North Shore. E. Milton Cooke of Highland Park, sang Tosti's Mallinata in a clear and ringing tenor which surprised even those who best know his vocal talents. Following the intermission came a soprano solo by Miss Katherine McNulty of Chicago, who appeared in place of Miss Hayes. She sang the "Meditation" of Chenery in a manner which admirably showed the culture and sweetness of her voice. The violin solo of Master W. Felbinger clearly indicated the successful future, which awaits this budding virtuoso. Master John Wuerst, the well known boy soprano of Chicago choirs gave "Mid the green fields of Virginia" in an artistic and pleasing manner. The final recitation by Miss McCarthy confirmed the favorable impression she at first made.

The entire program was under the direction of Mr. Charles M. Schneider of Highland Park, director of St Mary's choir and to his efforts is largely due the success of the concert, which was in all respects a financial and artistic success.

Dancing and refreshments were also provided and a royal good time given to all. It is proposed to give another concert after Lent, which if equally successful will make the much needed organ an assured fact.
