The invitation dance given by the Ladies of the Maccabees, at McDonald's hall on Monday night was well attended and highly enjoyed. A Chicago orchestra furnished the music.

Dan Sheahan's friends do not propose to wait till he has passed to another world where there are no pump-handles before showing their appreciation of his hearty good nature, so a large party of them met at his home on Tuesday night, a birthday anniversary, and proceeded to surprise him in the jolliest ways they knew.

Last Friday evening Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Millard generously entertained at their home the Rev. Pfanstiehl's Sabbath school class of young men, of which their son George is a member. The occasion was the monthly business and social meeting the boys hold regularly. The class continues to maintain its enthusiasm and faithfulness in attendance and work on Sabbaths. The boys are already planning for their annual class camping, hoping this year to be able to spend a few weeks in the woods of Wisconsin.

Miss Edith Friend, of Ohio, is the guest of Mrs. W. I. James.

Mr. W. W. Flinn agreeably surprised his friends by appearing on the business streets for the first time since Thanksgiving. He has been critically ill with typhoid, but is now on the highroad to health.

Mr. Samuel Levin, the skilled watchmaker whose services have been secured by Schneider & Cooke, the enterprising Highland Park jewelers is a man of 25 years experience in his craft. He was for a long time employed in the Elgin watch factory and has since been with Sears, Roebuck & Co., Harris & Co., and B. F. Norris & Co, Chicago. He makes a speciality work of fine movements and will be found each day at this well known jewelry store.
