

Mrs. Griffith Baker is quite ill.

Mr. L. K. Cushing's girl baby died last week.

The Lady Maccabees' dance at McDonald's hall on Monday evening showed an attendance of over forty couples and was voted a success in every way by the many present who enjoyed the music and figures of the dances.

Mr. Chris Anderson has bought a half interest in the dairy business of Mr. J. H. Sheahen. Mr. Anderson will drive one wagon, taking in the Highwood end of the business, while Mr. Sheahen will look after the Park.

Mr. F. S. Burnham of Chicago, after a few visits to the Park as a guest of Mr. W. B. White, has purchased a lot just north of Sheridan road on the street that crosses Sheridan road near the fountain, and will begin building this spring.

The half-tone illustration in the NEWS-LETTER last week giving a glimpse of the interior of the Palmer Boat Co's shops in the Park, has been asked for, to use in "The Rudder"—a publication that is considered an authority on yachting matters. The half tone was made from a very fine photo taken by Brand, the well known Park photographer.

Mr. J. Wallace Wakem, who gives to any responsible person two fox terriers of the very best breeding, the person taking them, at the end of the year, keeping one and returning the other—has decided to offer further inducement to any one who may want to embrace this opportunity of getting a prize winning dog. Mr. Wakem's plan is, at the end of the year, to have each person possessing one of the fox terriers, bring the dog to "Selden farm kennels" and competent and unbiased judges will award two prizes. The first prize $15 and the second $7.50. This should be a further inducement to people to accept a most liberal offer. The Selden farm kennels are located in Ravinia.

Mr. W. B. White's attractive residence—a view of which serves for our front page illustration this week—is as all know, one of the most beautiful houses in the Park. It is the fiftieth house that Mr. White has designed himself and it is not strange that the interior of this pretty home should be so well arranged and show such good taste as is revealed to all who have ever enjoyed Mr. White's hospitality in his charming Central ave. home.

From Mr. Edward Laing's report for March, as the superintendent of water works, it is seen that the total amount of water pumped for the month was 7,591,098 gallons, a daily average of 244,375. The leakage for the month was a million gals, and the total used for flushing sewers a million and three-tenths gallons.

The Forester's ball at Goldberg's Hall on Monday evening—an Easter event—was a great success in every way. It was a masquerade and the costumes worn by the many dancers added in a large measure to the evening's fun. First prizes were given to Miss Ida Rudolph, representing the "I. O. F." for the ladies, and to Mr. Leach, who appeared in a stunning garb as a candidate in our city election. Other prizes were given to Miss Dillie Nevans, a fascinating "dutch woman." Mr. Lem Rudolph also captured a prize for his truthful delineation of a "tramp" The Foresters cleared over fifty dollars by their Easter success.

The individuals who in the aggregate are much greater in quantity than in quality and who seem to have but one ambition in life,—to congregate on the down town sidewalks and make a nuisance of themselves,—all these are cordially invited to read, if they are able to read, the following portion of an ordinance which was made by a Highland Park council years ago. "No person shall encumber or obstruct, or congregate with other persons on any street, street corner, or other public place in the city of Highland Park by lounging at or about the same  and any person violating any provision of this section shall be subject to a fine of not less than $3 nor more than $25, for each offense." If either of our candidates for mayor will make the carrying out of this ordinance a part of his "platform" and will pledge himself to rid the Park of this great evil,—for it certainly is so regarded by all decent people—the candidate who succeeds in convincing people he is in earnest in this one pledge may safely rely on being the next mayor of the Park.
