Little interest was evinced in the township election, there being but one ticket in the field. The only contested place was the collectorship. George Rice carried off the prize from his two competitors. The other men elected are: Supervisor, James Anderson; Town-clerk, L. H. W. Speidel; Assessor, Timothy Howe, Highway commissioner, R. Kennedy. The city election which takes place next Tuesday, will undoubtedly prove of equally small interest to the enthusiastic voter who enjoys a heated contest. Mr. Gorton has been nominated by acclamation to succeed himself as mayor, and the retiring aldermen will be returned without opposition.
