

which Mrs. Clara Davidson presides as leader, and to whom as officer of the day any questions should be asked regarding that meeting. The evening meetings will continue to be held at McDonald's hall, and when the windows are all closed we shall be able to concentrate our minds less on our ample train service and more on our speakers.

It is the purpose of the Highland Park Woman's Club to have a home of its own as speedily as possible. The Woman's Club wants a big, comfortable hall—on the ground floor—where beside its regular meetings, it can welcome all other gatherings of an intellectual or elevating character that shall be of helpfulness or profit to the town; it hopes in its small way to follow in the footsteps of the Mother's Club in Chicago whose child it is proud to be. Think of what the Woman's Club has done for Chicago. She started its civic federation; she was the instrument in bringing about the closed wagons conveying untried prisoners to police courts; she introduced matrons into station houses and jails; made the separating of youthful offenders and older criminals a necessity of the law; it would take pages to begin to tell all that she has done for betterment and uplifting.

A large percentage of the Highland Park Woman's Club women are married and their husbands are the citizens who influence the destiny of Highland Park from its political standpoint. Every husband, every son, every brother, comes into the Highland Park Woman's Club meetings as a member and it is hoped in this joining together of interests many things that are good and helpful may be accomplished.

It is the purpose of the Highland Park Woman's Club to at once begin its work for a home; it has no intention of asking a penny of subscription, but it does ask all the men and women who are interested for and with it to—think kindly of the following suggestion: To float a sufficient number of shares at five dollars each to purchase ground and erect a hall of sufficient capacity to accommodate the needs of any ordinary meeting the town might have for literary or philanthropic purposes to be bought by the Highland Park Woman's Club members or their friends in the interest of the Highland Park Woman's Club. Any suggestions from the gentlemen interested in the Highland Park Woman's Club will be greatly appreciated by the board to whom this matter is entrusted.

NEW BOOKS IN OUR LIBRARY.

The following is a list of the new books added recently to the public library:

FICTION.

- Aylevin—T. Watts-Dunton, A, 769.
 The Sixth Sense and other Stories—Margaret S. Briscoe, A, 784.
 That Fortune—Charles D. Warner, A, 785.
 The Black Douglas—S. R. Crockett, A, 786.
 The Jamesons—Mary E. Wilkins, A, 787.
 Hills of the Shatemuc—Elizabeth Wetherale, A, 788.
 Through the Turf Smoke—Seumas McManus, A, 789.
 The Greater Inclination—Edith Wharton, A, 790.
 An Atlantic Tragedy—W. Clark Russell, A, 791.
 Daisy Miller—Henry James, A, 792.
 Sign of the Four—A. Conan Doyle, A, 793.
 A Duet—A. Conan Doyle, A, 794.
 A Prince of Georgia and other Tales—Julian Ralph, A, 795.
 Free to Serve—E. Raynor, A, 796.
 Strong Hearts—Geo. W. Cable, A, 797.
 The Taming of the Jungle—Dr. C. W. Doyle, A, 798.
 Spun Yarns—M. Robertson, A, 799.
 Bob, Son of Battle—Alfred Ollivant, A, 800.

HISTORY, TRAVELS, ETC.

- Idylls of the Sea—Frank T. Bullen, B, 584.
 Voyages of the Elizabethan Seamen—Edward John Payne, B, 585.
 The Naval War of 1812—Theodore Roosevelt, B, 586.
 Trooper 3809—Lionel Declé, B, 587.
 By Way of Cape Horn—Paul E. Stevenson, B, 588.
 John Ruskin, Social Reformer—J. A. Hobson, B, 589.

Autobiography of Mrs. Oliphant—Edited by Mrs. Coghill, B, 590.

With the Fathers—John Bach McMaster, B, 591.

John C. Calhoun—Dr. H. von Holst, B, 592.

Daniel Webster—Henry Cabot Lodge, B, 593.

George Washington Vol. 1—Henry Cabot Lodge, B, 594.

George Washington Vol. 2—Henry Cabot Lodge, B, 595.

From Sea to Sea Vol. 1—Rudyard Kipling, B, 596.

From Sea to Sea Vol. 2—Rudyard Kipling, B, 597.

Reminiscences Vol. 1—Justin McCarthy, B, 598.

Reminiscences Vol. 2—Justin McCarthy, B, 599.

JUVENILE.

A Gunner Aboard the "Yankee"—Edited by H. H. Lewis, C, 655.

Under the Laburnums—Mrs. E. Marshal, C, 665.

Under the Dome of St Pauls—Mrs. Emma Marshal, C, 666.

Rosin the Beau—Laura E. Richards, C, 667.

Those Dale Girls—Frances W. Carruth, C, 668.

On Gen'l Thomas's Staff—Byron A. Dunn, C, 669.

Little Miss Joy—Mrs. Emma Marshal, C, 670.

Hildegard's Harvest—Laura E. Richards, C, 671.

Hildegard's Home—Laura E. Richards, C, 672.

Margaret Montfort—Laura E. Richards, C, 673.

A Song of Life—Margaret W. Morley.

The Adventures of Huckleberry Finn—Mark Twain.

SCIENCE.

Industry of Animals—Frederick Houssay, D, 155.

Human Immortality—Wm. James D, 156.

ART, ESSAYS AND MISCELLANY.

The Power of Silence—H. W. Dresser, F, 347.

Nature for its Own Sake—John C. Van Dyke, F, 348.

Contemporary Thought and Thinkers Vol. 1—R. H. Hutton, F, 349.

Contemporary Thought and Thinkers Vol. 2—R. H. Hutton, F, 350.