

Clerihew-Morgan.

The following is clipped from the Minneapolis Tribune of Thursday last: "Miss Ella Byers Clerihew, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Clerihew, 2826 Park avenue, was quietly married yesterday to Anson Clou-din Morgan, Chicago. The wed-ding was solemnized at 5 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents, in the presence of a few immediate friends and relatives.

Mrs. M. C. Wymond, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. She wore white tulle over white satin, handsomely trimmed with duchesse lace, and her bouquet was of purple violets. The bride, who entered with her father, was charming in a gown of heavy white satin. She carried white violets and white or-chids. The wedding music was played by Danz orchestra. Lohen-grin was the processional march and the "Triumphal March" from Tann-hauser, was played after the service. During the ceremony, which was read by Rev. Pleasant Hunter, the "Evening Star," from Tannhauser was softly played.

Mr. Morgan's best man was Elisha Morgan, his brother, also from Chi-cago. Mrs. Wymond was the re-cipient of a handsome present, the gift of the bride. Mr. Morgan pre-sented gold lover's knots, with dia-monds in the center, to his best man and the ushers. Scott Woodworth,

John McDonald, Herbert Schwarz, Chicago, and Howard Commons.

The decorations were beautiful but simple, out of deference to the wishes of the bride. In the parlor yellow chrysanthemums and palms were effectively distributed, and violets deliciously scented the at-mosphere. The chandeliers were en-twined with ropes of smilax, so that only the candles were visible. South-ern smilax wreathed the arches. In the second parlor a bower of palms was arranged for the bridal party. Pink and white chrysanthemums nodded from pretty vases. The din-ing room was done in red and white the colors of Mr. Morgan's college, Cornell. Red carnations were used for the centerpiece and red candles gave a subdued light.

The guests from out of town were Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Morgan, Miss Morgan, Miss Julia Morgan, Elisha Morgan, Herbert E. Schwarz, Chic-ago, Paul Wilson, Menominee; L. H. Whipple, Detroit; Mr. and Mrs. A. Y. McDonell, Dubuque.

Mr. and Mrs. Morgan left last even-ing for Pass Christian, Miss. They will receive after Jan. 1 in the La-kota, Chicago.

A number of delightful functions have been given for Miss Clerihew. Among these were Miss McKnight's dinner. Miss Fannie Heffelfinger's luncheon, Miss Christian's affair at the Minnekahda club, Mrs. F. W.

Forman's luncheon, and the bridal luncheon, given Tuesday, by Mrs. Mrs. M. C. Wymond. Mr. Morgan gave a dinner Tuesday night to his ushers and best man in the red room at the Minneapolis club. Red and white were the decorations, and covers were laid for eight.

The last sermon in the Home Series being preached at the Presby-terian church by the pastor, Rev. A. A. Pfanstiehl, will be to-morrow at 10:45 a. m. Subject: "Daught-ers and Sisters."
