Presentation of gifts by Mr. Warren.

Each child received a box of candy and also a more substantial gift such as a jumping jack or doll chair and all went home happy. Some of the older ones also received gifts.

The public school also gave a Christmas entertainment as mentioned last week in the NEWS-LETTER, on Friday afternoon of last week. The school house was well filled with visitors and the program consisted of several dialogues recitations and solo by Mrs. Gross. School has been dismissed for a holiday week.

Miss Helen Russell was absent from Ravinia during the holiday week.

Miss Olive Hill of Winnétka spent Christmas with her sister, Mrs. O. A. Leonard.

It will be noticed that Christmas always marks some special change in the weather; either in the shape of a heavy snow storm or exceedingly cold weather. It will be noted this year that the lake froze out to the end of the breakwaters on Christmas eve, while the day before Christmas there was scarcely any ice on it at all.

All public spirited citizens of Ravinia will be pained to hear that the Sunday school and church has been closed indefinitely. There were no services last week and there will be none tomorrow. It is to be greatly regretted that the people of Ravinia did not take enough interest in their home church to keep it going. Mr. C. H. Warren of the Park has kept the Sunday school open for the last three months and had it not been for him the church would have been closed long ago. The main reason for the closing of the church is the failure of the responsible parties to furnish fuel. It is doubtful, if the Sunday school should open again, that it will have such a capable superintendent as Charles H. Warren.

Rev. Still Wilson of Evanston, gave an address at the Wednesday evening meeting at the Congregational church.

The closing exercises of the public school for the Xmas holidays, consisting of recitations and singing, with candy and little remembrances thrown in, were well worth seeing and hearing. The singing was very good and showed careful training. Miss Love and her assistant teachers may feel well repaid by the verdict of all those who attended the exercises, that they were the best the school had ever had.
