

Mrs. Sue Wheelwright has returned to the Park.

Mr. H. E. Schwarz spent Sunday last in Grand Rapids, Mich.

Mrs. Fritz Bahr has returned from a ten days' visit at the home of her mother in Ripon, Wis.

Mrs. Francis Thorn gave a charming luncheon for her daughter, Mrs. Le Roy McBean, on Friday.

Thomas P. Evans, the millionaire grocer, will spend some of his ducats in the near future, by a trip to Florida or Cuba, or both. He wants to get some good oranges.

On Tuesday evening, Feb. 6th, Mrs. Ranney V. Winchester and Miss Priscilla Carver will give a concert at Mrs. B. C. Jones' for the benefit of the Trinity Church building fund. An interesting program has been prepared. Admission 50 cents.

A charming musicale was tendered the Highland Park Club last Thursday evening by Mrs. Annette R. Jones. Mrs. Shank and Miss Helen Shorey of Chicago were the artists. Miss Shorey being unavoidably detained, Miss Priscilla Carver courteously took her place and played with brilliancy and grace. Mr. Leon Marx also favored the audience with a very artistic rendition of a Hungarian fantasia by Hubay, which was greatly appreciated. Mrs. Shank has a warm contralto voice and sang with much feeling and dramatic power. She has a charming personality which always wins for her a favorable reception. The program was as follows:

1. a Oh, That We Two were Maying.
b The Guest, Mrs. Shank
2. a The Slumber Boat.
b The Shadow Town.
c Si mes revs araient des ailes Mrs. Shank
3. a Prelude Schult
b Romance Mis Priscilla Carver
4. a A Ballad of Trees and the Master, Mrs. Shank
5. a Innovation, Mrs. Shank
b Violin Obligato, Mr. Leon Marx
6. a In Blossom Time.
b At Parting, Mrs. Shank
7. Hejre Kat, Mr. Marx

After the program refreshments were served. The hostesses were: Mrs. George D. Boulton, Mrs. Albert Paul Smith, Mrs. Alexander O. Mason, Mrs. Charles Everett. An unusually large number were present.

The engagement is announced of Miss Cobb to Mr. Lampson of Washington, D.C. The wedding will, it is said, occur next week, and Mr. and Mrs. Lampson will reside in Washington.

Brand, the up-to-date photographer, once a week takes views of the new hotel, so as to preserve for the hotel owners views of the structure at different stages of its progress toward completion.

Mr. Gerald Street and Mr. Harry Neill are engaged in business in Golden, Colo. Mr. Neill went to Colorado partly for his health and the climate there has proved of great benefit to him.

The iron work on the new Highland Park hotel will be done by the enterprising firm of Purdy & Sons. This hotel is a great boon to laboring men in the Park, and the policy that Mr. Cushing has followed of aiding home interests is a most commendable one.

Mr. Ed Small left for Macon, Georgia, last week. Mr. Small became ill soon after reaching Georgia and his family in the Park were quite alarmed for some time. Mr. Edward Smith is now with Mr. Small and the news that Mr. Small is very much better is a source of great relief to Mr. Small's Highland Park friends.

The Military Academy.

The Military Academy folks have just added two new steam boilers to their main heating plant. They are smoke consuming, arranged for hard or soft coal or wood, or almost any other combustible. They are very sensitive, that is they respond very quickly to a fire. The man in charge said, starting with cold water and fire, in 15 to 20 minutes he could have steam forging its way into the radiators, so as to be felt in the rooms. Two pounds pressure or thereabouts will do the work under ordinary circumstances. A study of these new boilers and the new tubular one at the depot has convinced us that the ordinary house steam or hot water heater is not the ultimatum.

Then the Colonel has had a 170-foot well sunk and several feet into the solid rock, tubed with 3-inch iron pipe, over which he expects next season to erect a windmill and tower, the latter carrying a hundred barrel tank. Some long-headed aldermen said "No" some months since when the Colonel asked the privilege of tapping the city mains with a 3 or 4-inch supply pipe, leading to a hydrant on his grounds, saying they would get hose, form and train a company among the cadets, etc. Next season he will have his own facilities and the city gets no benefit.

Third, they have an industrial building; the old barn, moved, raised and enlarged, will be equipped with power, lathes, circular saws, etc., where the cadets will take courses in the mechanic arts, especially in woodwork. All these improvements have involved an expenditure of at least half a dozen thousand dollars, perhaps more. But they had to come. Perhaps our folks don't know it, but the Academy is full and running over, and the managers have been obliged to turn away applicants. Col. Davidson works on the same line as the University of Chicago in one important respect, the Academy has small classes, and so each pupil receives personal attention.
