Daughter of the Elm.

A Tale of the Virginia Border Before the War

BY GRANVILLE DAVISSON HALL.

A powerful story, recalling forgotten tragedies. A Love-Story threads a stirring recital of crime and detective work. Scene in the valley of the upper Monongahela, connecting with Pittsburg.

The Book is something more than an ordinary bit of fiction. It has a substratum of historical fact, and some real people figure in its pages. There is a vivid glimpse of American life as found in that valley forty years ago. The book-critic of a great metropolitan Western daily, who read the manuscript, says the author has "dipped his pen in the very pigments of life." The head of a leading Chicago publishing house said of it: "We have been much interested;" "the plot is clever" and "details ingenious." "The story itself is interesting and there are some capital situations."

The book is to be ready for delivery to-day (Saturday). It will be sold by booksellers or may be obtained direct from the author at Glencoe. Sent by mail, postpaid, for $1.00.
