A meeting was held at the home of I. P. Rumsey this week to discuss the feasibility of erecting a Y. M. C. A. building. A committee of ways and means was appointed and the project may be considered well under way. There is certainly a crying need for some place where the young men and boys of the town may go of an evening for an hour of diversion, and it is generally hoped that Mr. Rumsey and the other public spirited citizens who are taking the lead in the matter may meet with the hearty support their efforts merit and that they may be enabled to make a success of the undertaking.

The following program was carried out in the auditorium, which had been decorated with flags, as had also the reception and dining rooms:

Overture—Mrs. Eisendrath and Mrs. Kuh.

Vocal Selection—Mrs. Rood. Recitation—"When Grandma Danced the Minuet," Miss Lee.

Vocal Selection—Mrs. Rood. Recitation—"Colonial Dames," Miss Edith McConnel.

Patriotic Medley—Miss Clara Tos-tevin.

After the program the ladies adjourned to the dining room, where they were served with coffee, sandwiches and doughnuts by the Misses Edith McConnel, Pauline Taylor, Bertha Thorne and Ida Heinig, all in the dainty, becoming costumes of the colonial days. The room was decorated with flags and the table with a hanging center piece of red and white carnations suspended by blue ribbons from the chandelier, with a border of tiny flags. The rest of the afternoon was spent in social chat in the pleasant rooms of the club house.
