The long looked for steel bridge for the electric railway, to span Hazel avenue, arrived Tuesday. The work of hauling it to the subway and placing it on the abutments began the next day.

OBITUARY.—Patrick Maloney, one of the oldest residents of Glencoe, died at his home, corner of Bluff street and Park avenue, at 11 a. m. Tuesday, 13th inst., of pneumonia, after a very brief illness. Although in his usual good health when attacked, he failed rapidly, and for several days the physicians had regarded the end as inevitable. Mr. Maloney was 83 years old, and had lived here some twenty-five years. He was for several years in charge of the railway gates at Park avenue crossing, but when a year or more ago the company arranged for the operation of two crossings from a tower, Mr. Maloney, after a trial of the work for a while, was obliged to give it up, the task being too severe for his strength. Personally, he was a kindly old man, of gentle and cheerful disposition, upright and faithful in all relations, and deservedly popular with all who knew him.

The Japanese have many curious customs. They begin a book at what we call the last page, and the end is where we have the title page. Horses, when in their stalls, face the door of the stable; men, and not women do the sewing and they push the needles in and out from them instead of toward them.

25 Cents!

Just half price—March 1st to July 1st—for 25 cents; that is, just half price. We do this to give everybody not now a subscriber an opportunity to try the NEWS-LETTER and decide for themselves whether they want it.

Just as soon as our list grows to a point which will permit it, we shall reduce the price to $1.00 a year. The advantage of this price will be extended to those who have or may subscribe at the regular rate of $1.50 when the time comes for a reduction.

Please call with your quarters at once and tell your friends to do the same, or have the money ready when the agent for the News calls on you.

If you wish, for another 25 cents you can have the "Household" of Boston, the most practical woman's paper, the size of the "Ladies' Home Journal," for one whole year. You had better try it. Thirty-two pages each and every month, finely illustrated.
