The residence of Mrs. A. H. Gross, corner Longwood and Central avenues, has been sold to Mr. John G. Shortall, of Chicago, president of the Humane society.

Three enterprising Glencoe boys, feeling the approach of summer, took a dip in the lake last week and strange to say escaped an attack of pneumonia or bronchitis.

The Glencoe Juniors played two games of base ball Saturday afternoon last, with the Highland Park's and the C. A. A. of Evanston. The score was as follows: Highland Park,

7; Glencoe, 8; C. A. A., 15; Glencoe, 8.

Mr. Charles Clark, a non union man, was attacked on his way home from Lakeside station Friday evening of last week, by two union men. He was struck over the head and face, laying the scalp open and making a severe gash in the cheek. Mr. Clark managed to stagger home. Dr. Cook was called and sewed up the wound. From last reports Mr. Clark's condition was favorable.

It is reported that an application may be made soon by the Waukegan Gas Company for a charter in Glencoe. It is understood they will not expect any exclusive privileges and would be willing to make a maximum price of $1.25 per thousand. House holders would welcome the advent of gas in Glencoe, not only for light but for heating and cooking purposes, especially for summer kitchens.

The election last Saturday for two members of the Board of Education was a big surprise, especially to the two ladies who were candidates and expected to have a clear field. Two horrid men suddenly appeared in the arena and were ungallant enough to come out winners at the finish of the race. Mr. Kletzing, the president, was reelected without opposition. The vote in detail was as follows: U. B. Kletzing, President, 206. Members of Board—Dr. J. H. Cook, 116; Daniel McArthur, 114; Mrs. M. R. Barnett, 94; Mrs. S. DeLang, 85; O. R. Barnett, 2. The acquisition of these two new male members is expected to contribute somewhat for a while to the public interest in the board meetings.

Class Tree Planting At N. M. A.

Yesterday the class of 1900 at the Northwestern Military Academy planted their class tree, adding one more to the beautiful row of elms which year by year eastward from St. Johns, along the line of Ravine avenue, takes its course. The occasion was celebrated with appropriate exercises. The class records were carefully sealed up and placed under the tree. This has become a regular exercise at the Academy and suggests to us that it would be a capital idea if the custom of planting trees in Highland Park were more generally cultivated. Why not, as at some other places, have a regular "arbor day" and make it a day of public celebration? Or, if not a day, then half a day, and so educate our children to the importance of setting out trees on our public grounds and along our streets. Possibly it is too late this year to have any formal observance of such a day, but will not some public spirited citizen make it his special duty before another year comes around to organize an enterprise of this kind? Surely, as we look at the long row of elms along St. Johns avenue on the west side of the academy and the row that is year by year forming along the south side, we must admit that a goodly example is being set for us. Shall we copy?

We see that in the newly organized county board our representatives are on several important committees. Mr. Hogan headed the finance committee, the most important one there is, besides being on some others, while Mr. McDonald is chairman of one and second on the poor farm. Deerfield may be a small town off in one corner of the county, but her men of brains and ability are recognized. The Board elected Editor Lamey of Barrington as chairman, showing how well they appreciate good editors.

F. W. Schumacher has sold over three thousand packages of Anti Headache Powders—an evidence of their merit.
