The High School Vote.

By an editorial error in reading Mr. Holmes' notes, Daniel Pease's majority over Dr. Turner was given as 104. There were two polling places, one here at the Park and one at Deerfield. Over there 58 votes were cast, all for Dr. Turner. The votes stood as follows—

Deerfield (East).....	666
Deerfield (West).....	58
Women here.....	193
Pease majority here.....	81
Pease total majority.....	23

As every vote out west was for Dr. Turner, Pease's majority here of 81 was cut down just that number. Hence Mr. Pease had a majority of 23 in a vote of 724.

The women's vote was very large, nearly thirty per cent. While a majority of them voted without doubt for Mr. Pease, the Judge must not flatter himself that he had them all, for he did not. No one voted against Mr. Pease, so far as we have learned on personal grounds, but many did because they disapproved the policy he represents, or is supposed to represent. If the good Judge will just "reform" a little he can have practically a life tenure on the office and we will not ignore the Doctor, who has lots of friends.

Friday, May 4th.

Do you want rare bargains in men's shirts, collars, neckties, gloves, ladies' furnishing goods, corset steels, threads, ribbons, braids, remnants of linings and flannels; in fact nearly everything in the dry goods line? Well, then go to James McDonald's new store on St. Johns Ave. He has the remnants of his former dry goods store which he will sell out at half price, and lots of things far below cost. First sale next week Friday, May 4th.—just twenty days before Queen Victoria's birthday.

The telephone company has sent us its latest supplement dated April. We note that one new phone has been installed in this city, that of W. R. Cregier, No. 294, while Waukegan reports twenty four new ones. Elsewhere we note that Waukegan has more marriage licenses than all the rest of the county. Does her extended patronage of the telephone have anything to do with it?

Our best critics pronounce Schumacher's Creams better than Allegretti's or Liou's.
