PROHIBITION TICKET.

For President, JOHN G. WOOLEY, of Illinois. For Vice-President, HENRY B. METCALF, of Rhode Island. For Governor, VISSCHER V. BARNES, of Lake County. For Lieutenant Governor, JOSEPH J. HARRIS, of Williamson County. For Secretary of State, BENJAMIN J. RADFORD, of Woodford Co. For Auditor of Public Accounts, JAMES A. STONE, of Sangamon County. For Treasurer, HENRY C. TUNISON, of Morgan County. For Attorney General, FRANK S. REGAN, of Winnebago County. For Trustees University of Illinois, ELLA S. STEWART, of Cook County. CLARA A. HARTFORD, of Grundy County. JACOB E. BITTENDER, of Whiteside Co.

Prohibition by States.

CALIFORNIA. The prohibition state convention for California will be held at Fresno, Tuesday, August 28. Presidential electors will be named and a partial state ticket. The state chairman has recommended that each county hold its convention on Tuesday of the week previous, and many of the counties will do this no doubt. Preparations are being made to receive presidential candidate in becoming style at the various places at which he is to speak. Alameda and San Francisco counties will combine their forces. They are calculating on spending nearly $200 in the various arrangements. An active committee headed by S. P. Meads, chairman; Geo. C. Conant, secretary and F. H. Wales, treasurer, are hard at work holding preparatory meetings.

KANSAS.

Hon. William L. Coryell, of Medicine Lodge, is the prohibition candidate for governor. He is a stalwart from Illinois, where he resided for a number of years. In an interview today he said:

"A good and true man is at the head of our state ticket. Maj. Frank Holsinger is well and favorably known, and is doing all he can to make our cause a success. The republicans claim to have done everything for prohibition, but it is evident they are doing nothing now. Some strong and able workers are coming to us from both parties, and we expect a large vote.

NORTH DAKOTA.

This state hopes to have the special prohibition train. The campaign is being pushed by Chairman Kiff, and it is likely that the candidate for attorney general, John Carmody, will be elected. D. Carleton, the candidate for governor, is a strong man and he ought to poll a large vote. A full ticket has been put in the field.

KENTUCKY.

There is every prospect for a grand state convention at Louisville next week. National chairman Stewart and Chairman of Indiana, will attend. Quantities of literature will be circulated and the state committee will make an aggressive campaign. The vote will be largely increased. The better class of Kentuckians are disgusted with the old party politics and large accessions will naturally follow.

IDAHO.

State Chairman Lee is active and is pushing the work. He contemplates the organization of counties, and an organization is in the field for that purpose. Clubs are being formed in the towns and literature placed in the hands of voters. County tickets are being nominated and the prospect is good for a fine showing.

Sketch of Judge Barnes.

Illinois prohibitionists are proud of their candidate for governor. He is a distinguished man, of gentlemanly address, deep learning and scholarly attainments. Though not well known in Illinois, he has made a clean life record and has been repeatedly honored by his fellow citizens of another state.

Hon. Visscher V. Barnes was born near Albany, N. Y., February 11, 1851. Three years later the family located in the far west, now Lake county, Illinois. After several years another removal was made, across the state line near Somers, Wis., where the Barnes homestead remained until 1887. The farmer boy went to the state normal school at Oshkosh, then to Oberlin college. Finishing his education he taught in the high school at Kenosha, was principal at New Lisbon and later was a professor in La Crosse.

At the age of twenty-three, Judge Barnes entered the law office of United States senator Angus Cameron at La Crosse, with whom he was associated for three years. Feeling that the west offered great attractions to a young man, in 1879 he settled at DeSmet, S. Da. His worth and ability were soon recognized for he was elected to the territorial legislature and later to the provisional state senate for a term of four years. For three terms Judge Barnes served as judge of Woodbury county.

His increasing law practice made it necessary to remove to Yankton, a leading city, which was his residence for eight years. His law partner there was Gen. Hugh J. Campbell, for many years United States district attorney. Judge Barnes was United States commissioner for six years and was also the representative of the attorney general in prosecuting state liquor cases in circuit and supreme courts involving constitutional and other questions. In the amendment campaign Judge Barnes was president of the state organization for non-partisan prohibition and was chairman of the state campaign committee that carried the election for prohibition. When in the legislature he carried prohibition through the house and fought hard for woman suffrage. A life long republican; he was a delegate to four state conventions and once refused the nomination for judge of the supreme court. In 1895 he removed to Illinois and soon after became a party prohibitionist. He supported Levering and Johnson and was the party candidate for congress. In 1871, the judge united with the Methodist Episcopal church, and is now a trustee and especially interested in Sunday school work.

Judge Barnes was married in 1876 to Miss Mary L. Evans, of Buffalo, N. Y. She died in 1895, leaving a daughter now twenty-one, and a son now sixteen. Three years later he was united in marriage to Mrs. Anna M. Chamberlin, formerly of Maine, who once lived at Macomb, Ill., and they have a happy comfortable home at Lake Bluff, Lake county. Our candidate for governor is a member of the law firm of Barnes & Barnes in the Fort Dearborn building, Chicago, and in worth and ability is fully equal, if not superior, to the candidates of the other parties.

Prohibition Picnic.

The eleventh annual picnic will be held in Wick's Grove, Grays Lake, Thursday, August 30. The indications are that this will be the largest prohibition gathering ever held in the county. Geo. W. Gere, candidate for governor in 1896, Col. John Lohieski, a direct lineal descendant of the last king of Poland, and Frank S. Regan, candidate for attorney general and an excellent chalk talker are the speakers thus far definitely engaged. There will be brass band and vocal music in abundance. Among those who will sing is Miss Ruth Willer, of Waukegan. Dinner will be served on the grounds and a refreshment stand will be conducted in the interest of the county committee.

Different Standpoints.

Two men went up to the polls to vote on the liquor question, one a deacon, and the other a drunkard. The deacon said within himself: "I am glad I am not as other men are—liars, thieves, corruptors, or even as this drunkard. I go regularly to church and to prayer-meeting, I help to pay the preacher, I send money to convert the heathen. I have no appetite for drink, and the saloon is no temptation to me, so I can cast my vote for its perpetuation, and it will bring no danger to us, but will make me solid with the men who do business with me."

And the drunkard stood afar off while the deacon voted, for he was ashamed to be seen by him in his rags and filth. But when the deacon was gone, he slipped up to the ballot box, and said with himself: "Lord, be merciful to me in my helplessness, and to my family in their misery, and I will at least cast a vote for my deliverance; and do thou, O Lord, hasten the day when the deacons and the church shall have mercy upon me."

Think you not, reader, that the drunkard went down to his house justified in the sight of the Lord, rather than the deacon?—Christian Endeavor World.

Is the Charge True?

The liberty congress of the anti-imperialists at Indianapolis last week, and though not a large assemblage is said to have been an enthusiastic one.

The venerable Geo. S. Boutwell, secretary of the treasury under Grant and ex-governor of Massachusetts, in a speech defined his present position. We quote from it the following:

"In my youth I had no delusions. I turned aside and let the democratic party when it surrendered to slavery. In my age I leave the republican party, not that it has surrendered itself to despotic and tyrannical motives. I helped create the republican party, a party at that time of justice and principle and honesty. I now believe it is a party of injustice and despotism, and I will help to destroy it. And how? There is but one available means, and you know what that is. I am for Bryan. I am for Bryan in spite of what he may believe concerning the currency or finances of the country. This question to which we invite the country's attention is a question of life or death to the republic."

Everything indicates that the campaign this fall national and state, will be a candid, intelligent, educational campaign. We have great confidence that the ultimate attitude of the great mass of American voters will be right. Abraham Lincoln once said very tritely: "You can fool some of the people all of the time, and all of the people some of the time, but you can't fool all of the people all the time."

There is of course always a certain element who look upon the ballot as merchandise bequeathed them, but we have too much confidence in humanity under the educational system of this country to believe any very large portion of the American voters take such a low and mercenary view of the ballot. The people may not decide right this fall. They may elect the wrong man. They may institute unfortunate political policies, but whatever happens this country won't get to the damnation bow-bows just yet.

As to whether Mr. Boutwell is right or wrong it is not our mission just now to express an opinion. We leave the republicans and democrats to fight out that point. Nevertheless it is fair to assume that the speaker, whether right or wrong, was honest in his speech.

Wadsworth Events.

Herb Strong spent several days of last week at home.

Mr. Sponenberg is entertaining a cousin from Chicago.

The Rosecrans people held their harvest picnic on Tuesday.

Mrs. Dawson, of Morris, Ill., is visiting her sister, Mrs. A. Clark.

Patrick Tucker spent several days of last week visiting friends in Libertyville.

The Winter family is entertaining a relative, Mr. Fuller, from New York state.

At the last meeting of the Ben Hur, seven new members were initiated and six applications received.

A number from here are preparing to attend the Prohibition picnic to be held at Grays Lake, Thursday, August 30.

A large number of our people attended the soldiers and sailors' re-union on Tuesday and Wednesday of this week.

The Ben Hur and Royal Neighbors have finished passing resolutions relative to the supper recently served by the Royal Neighbors.

It is certain now beyond all chance of doubt or failure that the Lake county fair at Libertyville, September 11th to the 14th, inclusive, will be the best ever held in this county, and this is its forty-seventh, fair. The old historic Rutland county, Vt., fair premium list is not so large and varied and attractive as ours is, and that is one of the big fairs of the country. The first white settler of Lake county, Col. Wright, came from Rutland, Vt. Plan to attend this fair and show something also, and get some premiums too. If you want any information write to O. E. Churchill, secretary.
