

The Centennial Election of Thomas Jefferson.

Just one hundred years ago Thomas Jefferson was elected President of the United States. The directors of the Old South Work, Old South Meeting House, Boston, Mass., have just published Jefferson's two inaugurals in a leaflet, No. 104, of the valuable Old South Series. These leaflets cost but five cents a copy. They are well worth many times their cost to every citizen and voter of the United States. In many respects the campaign of 1800 was the most bitter in American political history, and perhaps no candidate for president was ever more violently slandered or abused than Jefferson. And, by the way, this calls our attention to one or two remarks in Jefferson's inaugurals.

For instance: "Every difference of opinion is not a difference of principle. We are all Republicans. We are all Federalists."

Again: "Error of opinion may be tolerated, where reason is left free to combat it," and this calls our attention to the fact that political parties are usually quite unwilling to listen to the arguments made by their opponents. This has been in the past especially noticeable, not only between democrats and Republicans, but between both of them as dominant parties, and yet we presume no candid, thinking man would deny but what the minority party, or the "third party" has been the salvation of the country. Without it there never would have been the Republican party, and yet it has sometimes seemed as if the Republican party was more severe in their denunciation of a third party than their opponents, or the Democratic party. It has been an understood thing among Prohibitionists in this country, especially in Highland Park, and so far as we know, elsewhere, to attend Democratic and Republican campaign rallies. May we not now ask our Republican and Democratic opponents to return the compliment by attending the prohibition meeting next Thursday evening, at the Academy gymnasium? This, to say the least, would be eminently courteous and fair-minded, and if you care nothing for the speeches, we believe you will, without exception feel amply paid by hearing and seeing the Hon. Frank S. Regan's "chalk talks," which ordinarily you would have to pay for.

County S. S. Convention.

There was a big attendance last Friday and Saturday at Libertyville. From here a bus load went over but was so full that Charles Warren had to come home via Waukegan and the trolley. The program was excellent the attendance was very large and nearly every one one filled his appointed place on time.

From all we can learn this was the best convention ever held in this county. Our neighbor, F. D. Everett, is vice-president and some day they will say "Come up higher" and down the "vice" part of it. Knowing there would be a large delegation from the Park the housewives of Libertyville laid in an extra supply of sandwiches and nutcases. Messrs. Moody and Rohmer are right men in the right place.

In all our brag and bluster about compelling the Chinese to respect the rights of Americans in that country, we would do well to bear in mind these sane and just words of the New York Nation: "As regards the rights of Americans in China, there is no doubt we shall get those rights as well protected as the rights of the Chinese are in America, and that is all we can decently ask for."

Miss Mae McMillan, of Fort Atkinson, Wis., who visited Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Holabird, returned to her home after a happy three weeks here.

The park on the south side of the village hall is being graded, black-earthed and seeded so as to make a fine park next year. It can't be used as a dumping ground any longer.

The village schools re-opened Monday, the diphtheria epidemic being over, though Mrs. Josie Olsen's 7-year-old boy died Thursday morning. Her girl, 10 years old, died some three weeks ago.

A. D. Holmes, the Wagon master at the Fort goes to Huntsville, Ala., in a few days to testify before the grand jury there in a horse stealing case which occurred while he was in charge there during the Cuban war.

Some of the Highwood Citizen's Band boys don't like it because some papers speak of them as the Highland Park band. Don't blame them. The Park has no band and when it wants one borrows the Highwood fellows. The band is a Highwood institution pure and simple.

The contract for building the Sheridan Road north was signed, sealed and delivered last Tuesday night; so that work can now go on at full speed.

SPECIAL ASSESSMENT NOTICE.

Notice is hereby given to all persons interested that the City Council of the City of Highland Park having ordered that an Ordinance providing for the construction of a main sanitary sewer in District "A," with manholes, house connections and flush tank, in Bloom street, along a line ten (10) feet north of and parallel to the center line of said street, from its outfall at the east line of West street, produced from the north, to a point in the intersection of a line ten (10) feet southwest of and parallel to the center line of St. John's avenue, thence northwest on a line parallel to the center line of St. John's avenue to a point in the intersection of a line ten (10) feet south of and parallel to the center line of said street, to the west line of fractional section Fourteen (14), Township Forty-three (43) north, Range Twelve (12) East of the Third Principal Meridian, in the City of Highland Park, County of Lake and State of Illinois; the Ordinance for the same being on file in the office of the City Clerk of said city, and the said city having applied to the County Court of Lake County, Illinois, on the 30th day of August, A. D. 1900, for an assessment of the cost of said improvement, according to the benefits, and an assessment roll thereof having been made and returned to said Court, the final hearing thereon will be held on the 5th day of November, A. D. 1900, or as soon thereafter as the business of the Court will permit. All persons desiring may file objections in said Court before said day and may appear on the hearing and make their defense.

Said Ordinance provides for the collection of said assessment in five annual installments with annual interest at the rate of four (4) per centum per annum.

CHARLES B. RICE, Commissioner appointed of Special Assessments of the City of Highland Park. Dated Highland Park, October 18th, A. D. 1900.
