Money Left by Tourists.

Chief among the assets of Italian hotel-keepers, merchants and railroads is the money left with them annually by tourists. They will aggregate about $75,000,000, and the individuals named have just taken steps to cultivate the traveling foreigner with the view of encouraging him to spend still more. A congress has been held in Rome under the leadership of Sig. Di Ferrari, a former member of the cabinet, who in his address to the delegates said: "We propose to organize all the forces of Italy which relate to the cultivation of this industry."

Clams Leaving New England.

Over the greater part of the New England coast the supply of clams has suddenly diminished to an extent which has become alarming. Extensive areas which four or five years ago produced great numbers of clams are now practically barren. The explanation is simply that the demand has increased at such a rate that too large a number of the natural "seed" clams have been removed and extinction suddenly fol-

OFF ON A DARING VOYAGE.

Fishing Boat with Crew of Six Has Been Started on a Dash to the North Pole.

There has just sailed from Hamburg what may be set down as among the most daring band of arctic explorers on record. The little vessel is the Matador, a common North sea fishing-boat with a register of but 44 tons. It depends wholly on sail power. The crew consists of six men, the owner and captain being Lieut. Von Bauendahl. His plan after leaving Tromsøe, is to sail as far north as the ice will permit; then he will abandon his little vessel and force his way ahead with sleds. As to his return, that will be guided by circumstances, says a contemporary.

Though the Matador is so small, yet the expedition takes along enough provisions and fuel to last three years. This is packed in water-tight boxes so constructed that they can be used either as rafts or boats. They have runners also, and so can be used as sleds. Capt. Von Bauendahl has spent his entire fortune in preparation for the trip. He is 45 years old and has passed 17 years at sea. He and his crew are enthusiastic and expressed themselves as confident that they would return with the secret of the pole in their possession.

The Kaiser's Mustache.

Emperor William has had to abandon that peculiar curl of the mustache which has helped to make the Kaiser famous because Haby, the imperial barber and the only man that knew how to do it, has been dismissed for immorality and for trading on the royal favor he enjoyed.

FINLAND'S STAMPS VANISH.

Amusing Method to Which the Stubborn Finns Have Resorted to Keep Them Current.

Finland is no longer a member of the international postal union, as by an imperial Russian ukase the Finnish postage stamp is withdrawn from use, and the Russian postage stamp substituted. While the Finnish postage stamp until a few weeks ago had no value in the eyes of stamp collectors, it has now at one jump reached the head of the list, and will probably be the most valuable in the stamp collector's albums. The Finns are of course furious against Russia for this additional demonstration of the Bear to blot their country off the map of the world.

But the Finns are by nature a stubborn people, and the method they adopted to still compel the Russian authorities to forward letters with the Finnish postage stamp is amusing. Their correspondence they inclosed in an ordinary envelope, on which they placed the Finnish postage stamp in the usual corner. This envelope was then inclosed in a thin transparent envelope, plainly showing the Finnish stamp. The outside envelope was then properly addressed and provided with a Russian postage stamp placed by the side of the Finnish. So far no notice has been taken by the Russian government of this amusing method.

Christianity vs. Heathenism.

The Chicago Tribune gets off the following: To the Emperor of China: You are a heathen, and I am a Christian. If you will execute the murderers of my ministers we'll call it square. If you don't do that, you will get it in the neck.—Kaiser Wilhelm.

Postmaster Fletcher wishes us to say that the political supplement of the Antioch News is the best thing of the kind ever issued in Lake county. The last number was particularly telling. From this it would seem that our Archibald sets a higher value on the Antioch Supplement than the News-Letter's Prohibition Supplement. How is that, Mr. Postmaster?
