Bazar patterns at Mrs. Bohl's. Rev. A. A. Pfanstiel will preach on "The Demands of the 20th century," on next Sabbath morning.

Rev. A. Haelele preaches at North Northfield Sunday morning Jan. 6th.

L. B. Hibbard leaves Boston today for "Home Sweet Home," and will arrive at Ravinook about Monday.

Schumacher's Headache Powders contain no opium.

Miss Lottie Brand, who has been spending her vacation at home, returned to the Northwestern college at Naperville Wednesday morning.

The week of prayer will be held beginning Monday evening, by the people of the United Evangelical church. Revival services are expected to follow. All invited.

The vacant lot on Elm place, between First and Second street, was sold to Mr. Lingstrom recently. F. P. Hawkins transacted the sale for Mr. Sewer, of Boston.

One of the first patrons of the gas company will be Mr. I. Goldberg. He already has the pipes laid from the street into the building and will proceed to have his building piped.

Levin, the jeweler, is an expert on French and Father Time Clocks. Third door north of postoffice. Dunn's store.

Watchnight was observed by the congregation of the United Evangelical church and the time was pleasantly and profitably spent.

If one or more interested member of each fraternal lodge will send the NEWS LETTER a list of officers elected for the coming year, also dates of meetings, we would gladly publish the same in our society directory.

On New Years, Rev. Haelele took a flying trip to Stockton, Ill., to attend a jubilee meeting of the Stockton Evangelical church. He reports a very pleasant time.

Schumacher's Headache powders are perfectly harmless and will stop your headache instantly.

Dr. Boulter, our prominent dentist, who had made arrangements to go South and spend the remainder of the winter on L. O. McPherson's plantation in Florida, finds that it is impossible for him to leave the Park. He has not been able to get a substitute, nor has he been able to collect his accounts sufficiently to leave well balanced books behind.

Thomas Howe met with a severe accident on New Year's night. He, and his wife were coming from Glencoe, where they had spent New Year's, when he fell on a defective sidewalk about half way between the south school house and the railway crossing. He ran a portion of the sidewalk in his hand, also injured his foot. Those outlying sidewalks should be looked to at once, or some fine morning the city will have a large damage suit on its hands.

Rev. A. W. Smith, of Chicago, will occupy the pulpit of the United Evangelical church Sunday morning and evening.

L. O. McPherson and family will leave for Florida in a few days, and will spend the remainder of the winter on their Southern plantation.

The vesper musical service will be held at 5 o'clock next Sabbath, at the Presbyterian church. These services are growing in interest and popularity. Another interesting and helpful program has been prepared. Everybody will be made welcome.

Prof. Seldon, who visited at O. B. Brand's last summer, and who is professor of music at Western Union College, with Miss Leggett and Prof. Rangler, gave a concert at Floyd, Iowa, which was a grand success.

C. A. Kuist has bought 100 feet of property on Second street, block 8, and we presume that our enterprising hardware man will soon erect another house, probably for rent. The property was formerly owned by a brother of G. L. Wrenn.

Ladies, how would you like to get rid of wash day, with all its disagreeable features? The steam and suds, house upside down, and tired out with the rub, rub, rub. "I have a thousand things to do as soon as I get done with the wash." "I would not mind keeping house if it were not for the washing." "I don't mind ironing and the rest of the work." How often have you heard these remarks?

There is a neat little school bulletin published monthly at Waukegan, with M. W. Marvin, County Superintendent, as editor. It is devoted to the interests of all the public schools of Lake county. It is an interesting paper, not only to teachers of the different schools, but the students will find therein much food for thought and further development. Parents also can become informed by reading this bulletin as to what their children, and also the children of other people, are doing at school.

On New Year's night there was a social gathering of a few friends at the home of O. B. Brand, in honor of his niece Miss Lottie Brand, who soon returns to her musical studies at the Northwestern College. About two hours were spent in the dining room, and the merry making went round in chorus. All seemed to catch the spirit of the occasion and joy reigned without restraint. Even our Reverend friend gracefully yielded to the inevitable and wore broad smiles. Returning to the parlors they found all sorts of musical instruments in waiting, and several gentlemen displayed their musical talents by numerous selections on the piano, violin, guitar, banjo, clarinet and organ. Miss Brand followed with an excellent piano solo. At a late hour the guests reluctantly departed, hoping to enjoy many another such New Year's.

Miss Mae Welch, of Lake Forest, is quite ill, and it is feared she has the scarlet fever.

The Swedish M. E. church will hold revival meetings in the Highland school house for the week beginning Jan. 7th. The students of the Swedish seminary of Evanston with N. P. Glemaker as leader, will conduct the meetings and a hearty welcome is extended to all.

You have a watch or clock made in any country in the world, or any style, bring it to Levin, the jeweler. He is no superior in the repairing of complicated watch or clock movements. This door north of postoffice. Dunn's store.

Berbert and Nettie Moon visiting friends in Ravenswood several days this week.

Mrs. Murray, of Chicago, visited the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Grant one day this week.

Week of prayer is being observed in the Ebenezer Church. The pastor, Rev. S. S. ... during the meetings.

Rev. Endorf, the presiding elder, preached in the United Evangelical Church on Sunday last. He proffers all the churches in his district, the subject "giving a Testimony," which was presented in many new and original ways.

Wash Day.

There has been a demand on The Reliable Steam Laundry for this class of work and therefore we have installed the most modern machinery to meet these demands. We think the rate we quote below will save our patrons money and still make a small profit for us. Our plan is this! We will call for your laundry and deliver it washed, starched and dried ready to iron, with all flat work, such as counterpanes, sheets, pillow slips, handkerchiefs, napkins, etc., ironed for 30c per doz or 4c per lb. or if you wish it all washed, starched and ironed, we refer you to our popular family list which will be sent you by calling up 'phone 403 or dropping us a postal. Give the driver instructions as to how you want your work done. Kindly notify us and the wagon will call for your work.

RELIABLE STEAM LAUNDRY, 'Phone 403. Vine Avenue, Highland Park. See their family list in another column.

Following is a clipping which will interest many of our readers, as Dr. H. E. Thoren who is president of the Western Union College was formerly pastor of the First United Evangelical church. The college buildings, just before the opening of school, were completely destroyed by fire which caused not only loss of money but put the faculty as well as pupils to great inconvenience.

The first term of Western Union college closes on Thursday of this week with an attendance of eighty-two. This is a very gratifying showing for the college when such conditions of uncertainty prevailed since the fire and when it was thought by a great many that the term would not open until long in the future. The winter term will begin on January 2nd and the attendance will be nearly double that of the first term. The temporary quarters supplied by the board for the college have been very satisfactory and very acceptable for the different departments, but it is evident from the inquiry now being made that the attendance at the winter term will be so great that additional rooms will be required and President Thoren is now making soundings to find a large room which may be utilized for a part of the school work. The first term has proven very successful. — The La Mars (Iowa) Globe.

Glencoe.

School opens Monday morning.

Miss Margaret Fanning is ill with tonsillitis.

The Township High School.

The township high school building at Highland Park, described in another column, is the best school building in Lake County and in many respects it is the best in the State. No efforts have been spared to make it conform to all modern requirements from a sanitary and educational point of view. Its equipment is worthy of the building; the corps of teachers is made up of able, experienced instructors, and the school is bound to take high rank among similar institutions. The citizens of Deerfield township should now put aside all sectional and personal feeling engendered during the preliminary operations necessary to the establishment of a township high school and all unite in the moral and material support of an educational institution which can be made the source of unlimited benefit to the community and an object of patriotic pride to all intelligent citizens of the county.

There have been honest differences of opinion regarding the necessity for such a school at the expense of the township, and there has been strenuous opposition, at times, to the measures adopted and methods pursued by those having the matter in charge. The majority won, the school was built, and the township was bonded to pay for it. The building is not a cheap affair—good things cost money—yet it is evidence in itself that for every dollar expended in its erection and furnishing there has been value received.

For any who have fought on the losing side to refuse to patronize the school and to advantage from the opportunities offered to educate their children at home, seems, to an outsider, just a bit unwise. If there are such dissenters, they are obliged to give pecuniary support to the school while they refuse to share in the dividends resulting from their enforced investment.

The institution is now in condition to do more for the individual pupil than can possibly be done by some of the overcrowded secondary schools in other localities, that are patronized by many of our citizens. We hope to see it receive such united support and patronage as will cause it to become a powerful agency in satisfying the educational needs of Deerfield and adjacent localities.—School Bulletin.

Guessing Contest.

New Year's night, closed the bean contest at Mrs. Bohl's, Ladies Bazar, Mr. Bohl and ye editor did the counting with even honors, finishing neck and neck, going at an easy gait, five spots up. We lead with 3,691 count, Mr. Bohl 3,686, finish 7377. Mrs. Jessie Brown of Highland Park was the happy winner of the prize, a fine Renaissance table piece, her guess being 7,441, within 64 of the actual count. An enjoyable time was spent by those present.
