Best corsets for $1.00 at Mrs. Bohl's. A loud "I won't," means "I will if I have to."

The sweetest joys are often preceded by the deepest sorrows. Fresh garden and flower seeds at Schumacher's.

It is not always the rich man who pays his subscription the most promptly. If we cannot keep our secrets ourselves, we need not expect others to keep them for us.

Go to Blomdahl's for fine shoes at honest prices. Fred Richard's new brick house on N. Green street will be ready for occupancy by May first.

Wisely spoke the sage who said: "Example is far more than precept. It is instruction in action." Some people seem to think they have an inherent inability to make inability to make mistakes.

Special inducements for March at The Ladies' Bazaar. Mrs. Bohl, Tel. 302. The friends of Mrs. Blettie will be sorry to hear that she is very ill at her home on Laurel avenue, west.

Miss Alice, daughter of R.G. Evans, was threatened with pneumonia, but with good care will soon be able to be out again. For honest, reliable foot-wear, go to J. A. Blomdahl's shoe store.

James McConnell is having his cottage, on Second street, remodelled. It will be a fine two story building when finished.

Byron Stevens, while running to catch a train, had the misfortune to slip and fall and was unable to work for a few days.

Sparkling Spring Water, 10 gallon can, 80 cents. No charge for delivering. Wm. Tillman, P. O. box 459. Telephone No. 494.

Some women can't pass a millinery store with out looking in. Some men can't pass a saloon without going in.

A certain girl of this town claims that her fellow is a mind reader, because he can always tell when she has eaten onions.

If you want to purchase a reliable pair of shoes, you should go to J. A. Blomdahl, he handles only the best. Mrs. William Smith of Chicago, formerly a resident of this city, is the guest of her sister, Mrs. P. Cauley of Second street.

We noticed a young man the other day with two heads on his shoulders, but we didn't consider it any curiosity, for one belonged to his girl.

The postmaster in a neighboring town informs us that one of our subscribers has gone to the pen. We have some more who ought to go there if they persist in not paying up their subscription.

Those who knew and remember Miss Lydia S. Hansen of Big Rapids, Mich., who spent nearly two years in the Park, will be pleased to learn of her marriage to Mr. William D. Smith of Big Rapids, Thursday, March 14th, 1901. The wedding was a quiet one, only family friends participating in the festivities. Mr. and Mrs. Smith will make Big Rapids their home for the present.

Mrs. S. Levin, wife of the jeweler, has returned from a visit to her friends in Iowa.

The Highland Park Fair will have a spring opening sale commencing Saturday March 30. Don't fail to read their ad. in this issue.

Hartrout, the news and cigar man, has moved into one of Dr. Bergen's stores and sells papers at the same old price, albeit, he is in a finer shop.

We are happy to announce that the wedding of Miss Frances Brown to Mr. Francis of Boston will take place at the Brown family residence on Hazel avenue April 27th.

The firm of D. C. Purdy & Sons have taken the Hartrout stand on the north cut out 25 feet of the partition wall, thus making these two big stores into one, this appears like an increase of business.

1901 Garden flower seeds at Telephone 48. Schumacher's. Tuesday, April 2nd, the Highland Park Woman's Club will have the pleasure of listening to Mrs. Robert Hall Wiles of Chicago regarding the question "Has Club Life Become a Dissipation to Woman?" Discussion to follow.

C. P. Sullivan has moved out of that old building on the corner of St. Johns and the alley, into the south Bergen store where he will have to plane off the front floor every day to get it open. Walk right in and see him.

A. Abercromby has just finished the plumbing and gas-fitting of the Trinity Church, and is prepared to do gas-fitting in stores and dwellings at the most reasonable rates for hot water heating and gas-fitting.

He must be a dull man indeed, who cannot take the lists of some six or eight candidates for justices of the peace and select four good, honest, fair minded men for the office and vote for them. All good, worthy citizens will do that.

Call on Dale Sweetland for the freshest and largest assortment of Easter candies.

Albert Larsen still holds the fort at A. P. Dunn's news store, while the proprietor makes an extended visit in Central Illinois. Mr. Larsen keeps every thing in order the magazines are as attractive as when the duke himself is at home to order their arrangement.

It is the consensus of public opinion that four-fifths of the political corruption conceived and executed by some of the public officials of this city during the last two or three years has been germinated in Highland Park Tammany.

Dan Sheahan refused the judicial ermine when it was offered him by Tammany. It was not the honor he refused, but he said truly, "You fellows can't deliver the goods." Judge Sheahan is not a fool if he don't water his milk.

Call on Dale Sweetland for the choicest selection of Easter cards. Over six hundred soldiers and their officers, left Tuesday to fight the Fillipinos who want their liberty as our fathers did an hundred years ago. These six hundred men, thus sent, means more than six thousand votes for the democratic party in 1904.

Mrs. Boyington, widow of the late W. W. Boyington of this city, died Sunday, March 27th., in Cleveland, Ohio at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Carter. The remains were brought to Rose Hill for interment beside those of her husband, who died a year or two ago.

A choice lot of flower seeds just received at Phone 48. Schumacher's. The Rose Leaf Pleasure club will give an Easter Ball on Easter Monday evening, April 8th at Goldberg's opera house. The members of the club have a large circle of friends and will undoubtedly have one of their usual large crowds as this will probably be about the last dance of the season. Don't fail to go on Easter Monday evening.

Mrs. Bock's business has grown so that she has had to put on a new delivery wagon, all done up in Prior's best style. Her groceries don't smell of tobacco smoke and you don't find cigar ashes sifted into your granulated sugar from her store.

Rev. S. A. Gould, a former pastor of the Baptist church, spent Thursday and Friday with his friends the Misses LaBar and Mr. Bortree. Mr. Gould is pastor of the First Baptist church in Shelbyville, Ind. Mr. Gould's friends will be glad to know that Mrs. Gould's health is perfectly recovered. With the children she is spending the winter in Los Angeles Cal.

Charles W. Kirk our very versatile and adroit politician was at the Tammany caucus last week. He kept as quiet and demure as some good old grandmother all the evening. People wondered what he was there for and all he would say was, after "pints in politics." Pretty good, neighbor Kirk, but you know Tammany don't take things by "pints," nothing less than "quarts" or a "pony" will do them.

Mr. Schneider, the jeweler, found his quarters on Central avenue, too small and a bit out of the swim. So he has just moved into one of Dr. Bergen's new stores and now you can step in there and regulate your watch or select a diamond ring for your fiance or anything else in his line, on your way to the train or the post office. Mr. Schneider is an up to date jeweller and has everything this fin-de-siecle town wants and his store is as neat and tasty as a drawing room. Just step in and see what taste and skill can do.

F. M. Evans proves himself to the manor born as a first class grocer by the way he has run that store since he was alone. Everything is kept up neat and attractive, fresh and new, no fly specked goods of last season. Besides he has the best of all kinds, so that all his customers can be satisfied. Then he has good help. What "Harry" don't know about the trade, "aint wuth the knowin'" and his books are correctly kept by a skilled accountant. We have noticed, with pleasure that people seem to like "Fill" and his wares, which he delivers promptly and in good shape. Read his modest announcement.

We are greatly pleased at the nomination of Mr. W. D. Alford for our next police magistrate. He is a man of ripe experience; of good, sound judgment; of a fair, manly, impartial temperament and with the grand traits of character and habits of thought and action which fits one for judicial service. There will be no snap judgment in his court.

Fritz Bohr, the florist, proprietor of the Highland Park Greenhouse, will have a grand Easter display from now until Easter. Everybody invited.

Henry M. Prior is a model town clerk. He is a business man and knows what business is and how to do it. He performs his duties neatly, accurately and according to law. Then he is courteous to everybody, not bland to a political chum, but sour, gruff and uncivil to a political opponent. Further, he has a business office where you can go and find him at almost any time and he knows the details of his work for town and can tell you just how matters stand. It will be well for the town to re-elect him.

We heard a business man say, the other day, that David A. Holmes was an honest, reliable man. Yes, we know all that before, but we are glad others knew it too. He has made a good justice of the peace, but resigned that office this spring, and he has made a good and capable city treasurer and that office he lays down. There is no money in the supervisorship, that is all honor and "cusses."

The evangelical meetings conducted by Prof. Whyte of Lake Forest, in the Fort Sheridan Park pavilion, go on successfully and by the vote of the people, they are to be continued during April. Of course the removal of 600 troops from the Fort will make a difference in the size of the congregation, but the gospel of Christ won't hurt the regular citizens up there. Prof. Whyte will have half a dozen times as big a congregation up there as he would have at the Park after all the soldiers are taken out. It won't hurt the gospel, it won't hurt the preacher, it won't hurt the singers, it won't hurt anybody to have gospel meetings up there, it may do lots of folks good.

Call and See Them. Miss Raynor's hand made Battenburg curtains. Still a few tickets to be had at Mrs. Bohl's, The Ladies Bazaar.

Enterprise. One of the most up-to-date business establishments in this city is the Ladies' Bazaar. Mrs. Bohl opened this store only a short time ago in a modest way. Today she has one of the neatest stores of the kind on the North Shore. This shows what persistent advertising and modern methods will accomplish even in a small town.

Mrs. Bohl is one of our steady advertisers and she takes interest enough in her advertisements to have them changed as often as possible, and then Mrs. Bohl never has reason to complain that her ads don't pay her, because she looks after the advertising part of her business with the same skill that she displays in any other part of her business.

Rev. E. C. Ray D. D. will preach at the Presbyterian church next Sunday morning, subject, "The Deceitful Heart" The choir will render "Consider and Hear Me" and Mr. Anderson "The Palms." The annual congregational meeting will be held in the church Monday, April 1st at 7:45 p. m.

The Cummings Tragedy. William, the only surviving son of John O. Cummings and wife, in a drunken row assaulted and shot Mr. Charles Chapman, a quiet, peaceable colored man who was on the street car returning from a religious meeting in Lake Forest to his home in Glencoe. The deed was without any provocation on Mr. Chapman's part, and the shot, from a 38 calibre revolver, proved fatal, Mr. Chapman dying about twenty-four after he was attacked.

It was done Sunday night on the electric car near Mr. Wykoff's up on St. Johns Place, about 9:30 o'clock. The car full of passengers were greatly terrified: the conductor took Mr. Cummings' revolver from him, but was unable to hold him. Cummings jumped from the car near Mr. Theodore Schwarz's and went home.

A warrant was sworn out for his arrest before Judge Cummings of Highwood and in an hour after Constable Charles Gordon had him arrested and in the village steel-cell jail, and he was subsequently bound over to the grand jury. His arrest so quickly and successfully reflects great credit on officer Gordon for his conduct. The people want just such officers, men who can and do execute the laws with neatness and dispatch and that is what Constable Gordon did.

We don't like to have the fair fame of Highland Park blackened by such a tragedy. But beyond this question is forced on our attention, what led young Cummings up to this deed, for it was the culmination of a life-long training of some sort. What was it and where did he get it? He says he was "full" and has no recollection about doing the deed. Who taught him to get full; to carry a revolver in his pocket? These are questions for other parents to ask and answer lest their boys get trained in the same school and come to the same sad end, for "Whatsoever a man soweth that shall he also reap."
