VOL IX. FRIDAY, APRIL 5, 1901. April 5 1901 NO. 19

Highland Park.

The Ford P. Hall house is rented for a season or two, but to whom we have not learned.

See J. A. Blomdahl for reliable foot wear.

Mrs. Leach spent a few days this week in the city caring for her house on Laurel avenue.

Buy your Garden Seeds at Schumacher's.

Mrs. R. V. Winchester and daughter returned to the Park Wednesday; and will spend a month at the Ashbtons.

A. G. McPherson has just finished a fine set of blue print, drawings for Mr. S. Lavin's. Non-refillable bottle, they show mechanical skill.

Miss Lottie Brand came home from the Northwestern College last week to spend a few days with her parents during the Easter vacation.

Go to Blomdahl's for fine shoes at honest prices.

Several houses are being repaired, Madame Small's, Mr. Scott's, the Humble place, and Mr. Patton is going to reconstruct his lake side villa.

Call on Dale Sweetland for the choicest selection of Easter cards.

Mr. and Mrs. John A. Putnam will board with Mrs. Hull while their new house is being erected on the lots recently purchased from the Bingham estate.

For honest, reliable foot-wear, go to J. A. Blomdahl's shoe store.

The Christian Endeavor Society of the United Evangelical Church expect to send a delegation to the Rail Road Men's Home on Sunday afternoon for a song service.

The Highland Park Christian Science society will hold its services in the public library on Easter Sunday and thereafter at 10:45 a. m., and on Wednesdays at 8 p. m.

Our readers have noticed how well Elisha Morgan ran on his justice ticket. Evidently the people think he would make a good justice. Some of the candidates hustled too much.

The coming week is to be observed by the people of the United Evangelical Church as "self-denial week." All money saved in this way is to be devoted to the cause of missions.

We noticed L. G. Yoe here election day and voting for good officials too. That is, the kind of a citizen to have to make a good town. But we didn't see "Yoe's boy" Tuesday, he dont have to run the golf club now.

Don't forget to take a pound of Schumacher's fresh Chocolate Creams home for Easter.

We suppose a great many people have been wondering what made our friend F. W. Schumacher look so pleasant all this week; its a ten pounder, and a boy at that, which came to town last Saturday morning. Congratulations Fred.

We are happy to announce the prospective marriage of Frederick C. Winchester to Miss Smith of Louisville, Ky., April 30th, at the bride's home. They will spend the summer at Atlantic Highland on the coast, with family and friends.

To appreciate a "thing of beauty" you should see the Easter display in Dale Sweetland's Pharmacy windows. Mr. McNichols, Dale's efficient clerk has shown great taste in their arrangement, displaying some of Chicago's boasted window displays.

Bahr's Putting Green Lawn Set for sale at Fred Schumacher's.

Mrs. H. M. Davis of Milwaukee is visiting at the home of her new son, A. E. Dorsey, and his mother.

Get your Easter dyes of Dale Sweetland, he has the largest line ever shown in the city.

The friends of Miss Alice, daughter of Mrs. L. D. Fessenden, president of the Woman's Club, will be glad to learn that her condition at present is very critical. Miss Alice has been very ill with typhoid fever for several weeks and all are waiting anxiously and hoping each day to hear a more favorable report.

With pleasure we learn that our versatile friend, John Rouse, who handles the ribbons for George Smith, has fallen a victim of Cupid's wiles, and finds himself engaged to Miss Murphy, a Chicago young lady who spent a portion of last summer at the Moraine. Oh John, we never thought that of you, but all extend congratulations all the same.

Call on Dale Sweetland for the freshest and largest assortment of Easter candies.

Dr. Boutler, a graduate of medicine in 1880 and of dentistry in 1886 from Chicago colleges; a practitioner of dentistry for 15 years, coming south for health and finding an opening here, has established in Milton and will be pleased to see any one requiring the services of an expert in his profession. His office is up stairs in the Williams block.

One of our citizens who wrote several communications to the paper bearing the signature "Taxpayer," and discussing the proposed system for Highland Park; does not wish to be credited with the authorship of any of the articles which have appeared since that time, or that may be published in the future bearing the signature "Taxpayer."

Mr. F. Bahr, the florist is raising a number of plants from seed sent to Rev. A. Haelele by an old schoolmate, Rev. T. W. Woodside, now a missionary in Beuguella, Africa. The natives call the flower Okookopo. The plant grows a stalk like the holly-hock and the flowers are bell-shaped, four inches wide, colored with pink throat; so Mr. Woodside describes it. The plants are doing nicely.

The city is delivering the timber on the ground for the new bridge over the ravine on St. John's avenue just north of High street. The residents in that vicinity are in contemplation of the improvement which will make St. John's avenue a prominent driveway. It will be a square timber bridge with a span of 200 feet, built something on the plan of the one over the ravine on Central avenue east. It is expected to have the bridge completed in about six weeks.

Sparkling Spring Water, 10 gallon can, 80 cents. No charge for delivering. Wm. Tillman, P. O. box 450. Telephone No. 494.

We observe some bright pupils of Highland Park can make poetry like a book for they were born to it, "Poeta nascitur non fit." One of them having caught a whiff of the divine efflatus, tried his hand with the following surprising and inspiring result:

The way up classic learning's hill is long and stony. But we can make the ascent with our little "pony."

Let the laurel wreath be brought and placed on the modest author's brow!

If you want reliable shoes at an honest value go to J. A. Blomdahl's, Bayse Block, East Central Ave.

Something New in Guns.

This harmless looking hollow log Which I sketch here for fun, Though posing as a flower stand, Is also quite a gun.

To outflank a quarrelsome neighbour When he gets up at dawn, Give him a boutonniere salute From Kojpe on the lawn.

If with a lady you're at war, Just take a gun like this; Load up with flowers, and there you are, 'Twas never known to miss.

When Dewey made his famous cruise, Invading realms of bliss, The secret of his success was His guns were all like this.

You train her on South Africa, We soon shall hear the shout, "Another laager's captured" or "The Boers are enroute."

When you essay to civilize A transvaal or a state, Equip your men with rustic guns, Then trust your cause to fate.

Take with you, too, some indian shot; For praise, take blooming gorse, Then when you're through you'll have them taught

Some botany, of course. You do not need a pontoon bridge, Jump on, a la cheval; She will float you across Tugela Or the meandering Vaal.

For genuine civilizing, When merits are summed up, You'll find this gun superior To that one made by Krupp.

When you exhort through gatling guns You must not be surprised To find your heathen protege Did not stay civilized.

CANNA SEED.

Ladies are very cordially invited to inspect my display of artistic needle work, center pieces, fancy pillows, lace work; Truly work of Art. I have spared no expense in making this department as complete as possible.

All are welcome. THE LADIES' BAZAAR. -Mrs. G. Bohl Prop.

Mrs. Blattle.

We are sorry to learn just before going to press that Mrs. Blattle, who has been very sick for several weeks, died Friday morning at 3 o'clock. Her case has been practically hopeless for some time. She was a woman of rare excellence and a faithful, devoted member of the Ebenezer church, devoted to her family in the best sense; a model wife and mother. She has labored for years with her husband to secure that pleasant home for their declining years.

She leaves two daughters, one, Mrs. Scriber, who lives next her father's home, and Miss Anna, who has proved capable, courteous and efficient in the post office for some months past. To the bereaved husband and daughters we extend our heartfelt sympathies.

The funeral services will be held Sunday, interment at Rose Hill.

The "Daughters" Meet.

The North Shore Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution, met with Mrs. Patton Monday afternoon.

The members were delightfully entertained by their Regent, Miss A. L. LeBar, who gave a graphic account of the Continental Congress recently held in Washington, D. C., and which she attended as delegate.

Mrs. J. P. Whyte of Lake Forest, added to the enjoyment of the occasion by singing "Angus McDonald" most acceptably. After adjournment refreshments were served.

ART IN CURTAINS.

There has been on exhibition at Mrs. Bohl's Ladies' Bazaar two pair of fine Battenberg curtains, valued at $40. These curtains are the work of Miss H. M. Raynor it required about six months time to make them and it can be truly said of them, "they are a work of art."

Miss Raynor has adopted a novel plan of giving all the ladies a chance to hang them in their home; tickets are being sold at from one cent up and as soon as the few remaining tickets are sold the drawing will take place at Mrs. Bohl's Ladies' Bazaar—don't fail to get a ticket—see the curtains in the Ladies' Bazaar windows.

Womans Club.

The Highland Park Woman's Club met April 2nd and listened with great interest to a talk given by Mrs. Robert Hall Wiles of Chicago, upon the subject "Has Club Life Become a Dissipation to Woman." With sweet womanliness she maintained the necessities of the home as of paramount importance. Music and the entertainment of the home loved ones she included as of first privilege and importance. The club was to hold as a source of recreation and inspiration for more loving and broader living.

Music was delightfully rendered by Mr. P. Dooley assisted by Mrs. W. E. Brand. The instrument upon which he played being a mandolin with a pleasant variety.

Business: Board meeting the 12 inst. at Mrs. Halibirds Fort Sheridan. Ladies will meet and take the 12:12 electric car on that occasion.

Easter Services.

At the Presbyterian church next Sunday. Rev. E. C. Ray, D. D., will preach. Subject, "Flowers From the Garden Grave." The choir will render two anthems, "Christ the Lord is Risen," and "An Eastern Hymn." Miss Wycoff will sing "I know that my Redeemer Liveth."

The usual monthly twilight musical at 5 p. m. The program is as follows:

Organ..... Mrs. Chas. F. Everett.

Quartette—"Inspire and Hearer of Prayer"..... Williams Choir.

Solo—"The Palms"..... Faure Mr. Anderson.
